British Ministry Is to Make Irish Decision To-morrow

Will Make Known Attitude Following Sinn Feiners' Reply Reiterating Their Principle of "Government By Consent of Governed."

London, Sept. 6.—Premier Lloyd George to-day held conversations with members of his Cabinet and civil and military authorities in Ireland relative to the situation which has arisen over the latest note to the British Government from Eamonn de Valera, the Irish "Republican" leader. The Prime Minister met his colleagues at Inverness, Scotland, Mr. Lloyd George having been spending a brief vacation at Gairloch, not far from Inverness. The Cabinet will convene to-morrow in Inverness.

Although London newspapers continued to-day to counsel patience and forbearance in dealing with the Irish question, there were certain indications that the Irish controversy had virtually reached a crisis and that to-morrow's meeting of the British Ministry might prove historic. There were many who believed that de Valera and his supporters in Dublin would be given a certain limited time in which they could either accept or reject the British Government's offer of dominion status for Ireland as a basis for a settlement of the ancient controversy.

Statement By Valera.

Dublin, Sept. 6.—Eamonn de Valera, the Irish "Republican" leader, declared in a statement to the press to-day that if England should issue an ultimatum to the Sinn Fein no pretence would be made that there was an application of force which must mean war and not peace.

Opinion.
Dublin, Sept. 6.—The Daily Eireann's reply to Premier Lloyd George is being carefully studied by observers here as to whether it will involve an actual breach of the negotiations. The general opinion is that it is meant to keep the negotiations open, but makes it possible for Mr. Lloyd George to break off, if he wishes.

The strong Sinn Fein belief in the British Government's unwillingness to renew the conflict in Ireland led the Daily Eireann, according to political judges, to take the risk of proceeding to the utmost limit.

The reply shifts the basis of the negotiations to the principle of government by consent of the governed. This naturally has raised the question of Northeast Ulster, and it is considered possible that the ultimate object of the Sinn Fein is to detach Tyrone and Fermanagh, in the east coast, from the rest of the Northern Parliament.

The speech of Michael Collins at Armagh is thought to confirm this view and indicates the intention to make Northeast Ulster the scene of vigorous affiliation wherever the Sinn Fein has a footing.

As Premier Lloyd George in the first instance received de Valera without conditions, he may agree similarly to receive the plenipotentiaries. Should the British Cabinet consent to further negotiations, plenipotentiaries will at once be appointed, not necessarily of the Sinn Fein, which has relegated the negotiations to the "Cabinet."

Valera's Statement.
The reply of Eamonn de Valera to Premier Lloyd George reads as follows:
"We, too, are convinced it is essential that some definite and immediate progress should be made toward a basis upon which further negotiations can usefully proceed, and recognize the futility of a mere exchange of argumentative notes. I shall therefore refrain from commenting on the fallacious historical references in your last communication. The present is the reality with which we have to deal."

"The conditions of to-day are resultant of the past, accurately summing it up and giving in simplest form the essential data of the problem. These data are:

Machinery for Federal General Election Ready

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—The necessary machinery for carrying out the coming general election is all ready. Once dissolution takes place and the writs for a general election are issued, there only remains the need for expressing all the necessary forms and documents to the returning officers in the various constituencies. At the office of the Chief Electoral Officer preparations have been made for dispatching the necessary forms immediately the writ is issued and election officers throughout the country will at the same time receive full printed instructions as to their duties.

With the exception of Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island, there already exist in the different provinces lists of voters which will be used as the basis of lists to be prepared for the coming general election. In each case the lists will be brought up to date as provided by the Dominion Elections Act, revising officers and registrars being appointed as required.

Liberals.
Ottawa, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press)—In preparation for the coming federal election campaign, a meeting of the National Liberal Organization Committee has been called by Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party. The meeting will be held in Ottawa next Tuesday, September 13, and delegates will be in attendance from all the provinces. Organization work will be planned and arrangements discussed for the carrying out of the campaign in all parts of Canada, and it is expected that provincial committees will be named to handle the work of each territory.

TWENTY-FOUR HELD IN JAIL

Members of Poplar Council, London, in Custody

Great Crowd Saw Five Women Arrested

London, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press Cable)—There are now twenty-four members of Poplar Council in prison for defying a high court order to levy rates in accordance with a ruling of the London County Council.

Women Arrested.

London, Sept. 6.—Five women councillors of Poplar were arrested yesterday to the accompaniment of stirring scenes. Their arrest had been postponed out of consideration for their sex and in the hope that the trouble arising between the borough council and the London County Council respecting taxes would be adjusted. But the women themselves invited the sheriff to arrest them and appointed the hour of 3 o'clock in the afternoon for the ceremony at the Town Hall, assuring the sheriff that at that hour there was no danger of disorders.

Great Crowds.

Accordingly, immense crowds, mostly women, gathered inside and outside the Town Hall. The councillors were headed by Susan Lawrence and Mrs. Edgar Lansbury, who delivered farewell speeches both in the hall and from the balcony to the boisterous crowds of demonstrators and sympathizers. No great was the gathering, with various local bands when the sheriff's car left with the prisoners for Brixton, that only the slowest pace was possible until the district had been left behind. All the windows of the houses along the route were crowded, and there was much cheering and waving of handkerchiefs.

WORKMEN SEIZE

CORK OFFICES

Hoist Red Flag Over Harbor Board Building

Cork, Sept. 6.—Representatives of the union of Transport Workers this morning took possession of the offices of the Harbor Board, owing to the refusal of the board to grant the workers a minimum wage of seventy shillings a week and 'time off' at midday.

The transport men propose to run the business themselves and pay the wages themselves. Sir James Long, secretary of the Harbor Board, declined to surrender the offices, but the transport workers insisted and he departed.

Armed.

Belfast, Sept. 6.—Unionists employed by the harbor board near the scenes of the recent rioting last night were given arms with which to protect themselves if attacked. It was declared the measure was a sequel to the speech of Owen O'Duffy at Armagh on Sunday, in which he declared the harbor board against Ulster would be tightened by Sinn Fein, and if that was unsuccessful in bringing Ulster into a united Ireland, "we will bring lead against them."

Charles Harvey, wounded during the rioting of last week, died this morning. He was the nineteenth victim of the disorders.

INDIAN WHEAT IS NOT EXPORTED

Government Continues Prohibition on Shipments from Country

London, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A Reuter dispatch from Simla says the Government of India has anxiously considered the per capita increase caused by the recent rapid rise in the price of foodstuffs, especially wheat, and has decided that the existing prohibition on the export of wheat, wheat meal and flour shall be continued in full force, at least until the end of March next, in order to prevent depletion of stocks or enhancement of prices, supplies for military requirements to be obtained as far as possible by purchase abroad.

Furthermore, in order to encourage private imports of wheat, particularly from Australia, and to assist the Indian flour mill industry, the Government has decided to permit the re-export of imported wheat in the form of fine flour only to the extent of fifty per cent. of the weight of the wheat actually imported.

Army and Navy Veterans Win Beer Selling Case

That members' clubs cannot be held to be a person or corporation within the meaning of the act was decided by a judgment just handed down by Mr. Justice Murphy in the stated case taken by H. D. Twigg for the Victoria unit of the Army and Navy Veterans against a police court conviction, when Magistrate Jay imposed a fine of $1,000 on the local club on a charge of selling beer to its members.

Magistrate Jay prepared the stated case which was heard before Mr. Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court recently.

The judgment in effect reverses the conviction imposed in the police court against the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, local unit, and makes it clear that section 46 of the Government Liquor Act cannot be invoked in the prosecution of members' clubs, which are now held to be outside the meaning of "person" or "corporation."

The judgment does not enter the question of constitutionality, already decided by Mr. Justice Macdonald, nor does it decide the question asked in relation to section 23 of the Government Liquor Act, dealing with sale by person or corporation that point is inferentially decided, it is stated by the admission of crown counsel—that in the English case cited the transference of liquor between members was not a "sale."

The judgment also makes clear that the Army and Navy Veterans Dominion branch has power to grant charter but not to give a corporate existence, which may be assumed by any unit at its own will, but was not done in this case.

This decision will affect all clubs known as members' clubs, where it is held that they when not incorporated especially are neither persons nor corporations, within the meaning of the Act. Members' clubs are in effect societies of joint owners—the members themselves—and therefore brought neither within the sections 26 nor 46 of the Government Liquor Act.

C. L. Harrison appeared for the Crown in the police case, and E. C. Mayers for the Crown in the Supreme Court. H. Despard Twigg acted for the Army and Navy Veterans throughout.

THREE CONVICTS MADE ESCAPE

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Three men convicted of conspiracy in the million-dollar postoffice robbery here February 17, and awaiting trial for alleged robbery in the same case, escaped from the Lucas county jail yesterday. The men are John Urbay, George Lewis, alias George Rogers, and C. S. Schultze. All are declared by postoffice authorities to have been active participants in the robbery.

The escape was effected by overpowering deputy sheriffs in charge of a jail full of prisoners.

BULLION SHIPMENTS.

New York, Sept. 6.—Gold coin bullion and silver bars having an estimated value of $5,000,000 were received here to-day from Germany, France, Turkey, Egypt and Latin American countries for financial and business firms.

POSTMEN WANT INCREASED PAY

Association Requests Thirty Per Cent. Raise.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—A thirty per cent. increase in salaries is the request of the letter-carriers. The majority of the men are not in favor of a straight salary of $1,850 without bonus.

The facts were made plain when a resolution was passed at the concluding session of the Federated Association of Letter-Carriers here.

The executive committee was instructed to take up again the matter of free transportation for the letter-carriers in all cities where there is a street car service.

Motions dealing with postal matters included recommendations that every mail, with the exception of first-class mail, should pay for its own carriage, and that delivery zones be established.

Rear Peace Portal As Memorial For Anglo-Saxon Unity

Thousands Throng to Boundary Towns to Witness Dedication; Princess Patricia Takes Large Excursion; Features of Ceremony.

Blaine, Wash., Sept. 6.—Dedication of the peace portal here, the arch symbolic of a peace boundary between the United States and Canada three thousand miles long and 107 years old, took place at two o'clock this afternoon. Before noon crowds estimated at ten thousand had poured into this little border town to witness the ceremony.

Motorists choked the road, people swarmed from every train and many of the visitors from British Columbia, including the party of official delegates, started to-day in a fleet of steamers and yachts. Those arriving last night were greeted miles away by the emblazoned portal flashing an electrical message of international goodwill.

NEW LOAN FOR FORMER SOLDIERS IN AUSTRALIA

London, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A Reuter cable from Sydney, Australia, says Sir Joseph Cook, Acting Premier, in a speech said that $100,000,000 had been raised for the assistance of Australian soldiers who had returned from the war and the new loan was successful, further loans would be unnecessary.

HUNTING FOR ESCAPED CONVICT

Constables Are Searching on Olympic Peninsula

Seattle, Sept. 6.—Roy Gardner, super-bandid, was at large on either McNeil Island or the Olympic Peninsula, first to the west, early to-day after a sensational break for liberty from the federal penitentiary, during which Everett Impyn, a former soldier, was killed by guards and Laward Bogart, also a former soldier, was seriously wounded in the melee following the dash.

In the belief that Gardner possibly has escaped to the densely-wooded and rugged Olympic Peninsula, which is separated from the prison island by only a mile or more of water, federal and state officials early to-day prepared to comb that country. The search promises to be slow because of the nature of the terrain.

Not Seen.
Gardner has not been seen, so far as known, since his dash from the penitentiary.

Guards, working in pairs, and the 700 residents of McNeil Island were on the alert for Gardner all last night. Launches traversed the waters surrounding the island in order to cut off the escape of the bandit in a row-boat.

The long history of McNeil Island penitentiary it has been rare for an escaped prisoner to get away from the island, which covers twelve square miles of wooded area. Its west side is closest to the mainland.

LIQUOR PERMIT INQUIRY IN U. S.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Investigation of all outstanding liquor permits is to be begun shortly, and many cancellations may follow, prohibition enforcement officials said to-day. It is the intention of the "dry" authorities to comb out all the bona fide users of the certificates, officials said.

He asserted that the Prohibition Enforcement Bureau has no accurate information as to how many outstanding permits are forgeries or being used for illegal purposes.

No wholesale cancellation of liquor permits is planned, officials said.

Meighen's Address.
Mr. Meighen, in his address of welcome, took the opportunity of congratulating William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States, who was not present, on his elevation to that high office. Mr. Taft, he said, had made himself extremely popular in Canada and his appointment to Chief Justiceship was popular throughout the Dominion. This popularity might mean very little to the President and Government of the United States, Mr. Meighen continued, amid subdued laughter, but such was the case.

U. S. AUTOMOBILE DEFENCE PLAN

Washington, Sept. 6.—Motor vehicles of ten different types designed as standard of the United States army would be subject to commandeering by the War Department in time of national emergency under a plan which has just been worked out by officers of the motor transportation service. It was learned at the War Department to-day.

Manufacturing plants of firms making these standard types of vehicles would also be taken over by the Government under the suggested plan. Army officers charged with the work stated to-day that recommendations would probably be made to Congress for legislation authorizing the Federal Government to take the necessary action in time of national need.

MUCH BOOTLEG LIQUOR TESTED

Over 8,000 Samples in Year in Chicago Laboratory

New York, Sept. 5.—Secrets of the men who illicitly manufacture sympathetic whiskey or gin are as an open book to the United States Government chemists who test the products of violators of the Volstead law.

Evidence seized from rum-runners and bootleggers is brought to them for examination. How the chemical tests are conducted was disclosed today by A. A. Edson, chief chemist of the Government laboratory in the Federal building here. The walls of his office are lined with shelves filled with bottles of every kind and description containing every kind of beverage forbidden by the Volstead act.

A fringe of stills seized in raids decorates the top of the shelves and there is a big pile of them in a corner. In the past year more than 8,000 samples of liquor, good, bad and different, have been tested here and the results produced later in the Federal courts.

For Alcohol. The first thing to be done by the chemists when a sample of suspected liquor is brought in is to test it for alcohol. Usually the prohibition agents try to get at least half a pint of whiskey and a pint of wine for the chemists to work on. But occasionally an agent comes in with a small bottle of liquid which, he explains, is a drink of whiskey which he bought at a bar and had in his mouth until he could spit it out into a bottle without being observed by the barkeeper. And that is tested too.

When the sample is large enough the hydrometer is used to find the amount of alcohol present. The hydrometer is a thermometer-like instrument of glass with the specific gravities marked on it. It is floated in the sample and the markings read. Alcohol being lighter than water the hydrometer sinks farther in a mixture of alcohol and water than in plain water. The amount of alcohol can thus be accurately determined by reading the markings.

Weighed. Small samples of liquor are tested by means of the pycnometer. A measured quantity of the suspected liquid is weighed and its weight compared with that of an equal quantity of water. By means of a few computations the amount of alcohol can easily be found.

For rapid work on beer and wine with small percentages of alcohol the ebullimeter is used. The evidence is heated and the boiling point learned. Water boils at 100 degrees centigrade and alcohol at a much lower temperature. A mixture of alcohol and water boils at a lower temperature than water and thus the chemists can rapidly calculate the amount of alcohol.

After the test for alcohol has been completed in the case of whiskey the color of the sample is tested. Whiskey that has been in bond for some time has a color of its own due to the inside of the whiskey barrels being charred by fire. The color of the whiskey is put in. The manufacturing bootlegger making an artificial whiskey of grain alcohol and water uses caramel made of burnt sugar to color his product.

By Color. The Marsh reaction shows if the color of the whiskey sample is genuine or artificial. A quantity of amy alcohol slightly acidified with phosphoric acid is mixed with the liquid to be tested. Amy alcohol being lighter than ethyl alcohol, as ordinary grain alcohol is called by the chemists, rises to the top of the mixture. If the whiskey is genuine the color will mix with the amy alcohol and rise to the top of the mixture. If the color is due to caramel it will stay in the bottom of the mixture.

Test is made for wood alcohol. If there is any suspicion of its presence, "Methoc." Mr. Edson said that 90 per cent. of the liquor seized by the prohibition agents and brought to the laboratory to be tested is synthetic whiskey made of alcohol and water and a little color, or just plain "hooch."

"We can usually tell whether the stuff is genuine or not by just smelling it," he explained. "The synthetic stuff has a distinct smell of raw alcohol which is not present in genuine whiskey no matter how bad it may be."

"Lately we have tested a number of samples of synthetic gin. It is made of alcohol and water with a little oil of juniper to give the characteristic gin flavor. But the juniper flavor is ranker than genuine gin and I don't think any one gets much pleasure from drinking such stuff. The bootleggers usually put in too much of the oil of juniper."

FRANCE TO IMPORT BUT LITTLE WHEAT

Paris, Sept. 5.—France's wheat yield, according to statistics of the official journal, is sufficient to free France almost entirely from the necessity of importing wheat.

The total amount of the yield is set down as 87,342,000 quintals, including the production in Alsace-Lorraine, which is 1,340,000 quintals. (A quintal is about 2 1/2 bushels).

GEOLOGISTS MADE EXPLORATIONS IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 5.—Australia, now over the greater part of it a drought-stricken desert, was in former ages covered deep with an ice-cap similar to that which now covers the South Polar Continent. Two prominent geologists, Professors Edgeworth David and Howchin, have just returned from an exploratory tour in Central Australia, and they state that in time long prior to the age when mankind began to write history, vast glaciers covered what are now arid plains. They found evidence of glacial action so marked that it is clear that in early ages, the ice-cap must have spread over Australia, as it did over Canada and Northern Europe.

A notable feature of the geologists' researches is that in the desert they found ample supplies of the finest artesian water.

1,255,091 MORE CHURCH MEMBERS

American Methodist Report
Presented to London
Conference

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A net gain of 1,255,091 members has been made by all divisions of the Methodist Church in the United States in the past ten years, despite great losses suffered by denominations during the war, according to statistics compiled for presentation to the decennial Ecumenical Methodist Conference which is being held in London this week. The figures, compiled by the Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of Plainfield, N. J., former director of the United States census, were made public here today.

Methodist Sunday schools in the United States, however, the report says, show a net loss for the two years, 1918 and 1919, of 293,968, "an appalling figure," although 1920 returns indicate that "the lost ground is being regained." Notwithstanding that Sunday school pupils of the denomination in this country were 200,000 fewer in number in 1920 than in 1918, the enrollment throughout the world shows an increase of 1,255,036 Methodist pupils for the ten-year period.

Good Showing. "It is a remarkably good showing that American Methodism has to present to the Ecumenical Conference," declared Dr. Carroll's statement. "Delegates representing nearly 37,000,000 Methodist members and adherents will be in attendance. We can never forget that the past decade includes the worst war in history and that, though our nation was an actual participant in its battles for only a year and a half, we suffered with our allies its terrible effects."

"The year 1919 was the hardest the churches of America have known, at least since the Civil War. Methodism in most of its branches suffered, with other evangelical denominations, actual losses. The Methodist Episcopal Church suffered most of all, losing 43,262 in 1918 and 59,887 in 1919—103,249 in two years—and the conditions were even worse if we leave out foreign mission fields, for the net loss in this country alone in 1919 was nearly 70,000. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, lost 18,404 in the year. In 1920 the tide turned for all evangelical churches, heavy gains succeeding the losses.

"Considering the heavy losses in the previous two years, it is remarkable that the total net increase in members and probationers of the Methodist bodies of the western section, United States, has been 1,255,091, exceeding the increase of the previous decade, 1900-1910, by nearly 242,000. The percentage of increase is also greater. For the decade ending in 1910 it was 15; for the past ten years, nearly 17."

Ministers Needed. Dr. Carroll, in commenting on the fact that the number of itinerant Methodist ministers, 48,405, represented a loss of 289 as compared with a gain of 6,531 in 1910 for the previous ten years, said: "Certainly, more ministers are needed instead of fewer for a growing Methodism. What is the trouble? Is the Methodist ministry less attractive than it used to be?"

In conclusion, Dr. Carroll says: "The net increase of Sunday school pupils for all Methodist bodies in the world, for the ten years is 1,259,036. Of this handsome gain, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the only body of any name, so far as I recall, which has more scholars in Sunday school than members in church, get the lion's share—$24,472. It also participates in the total increase of officers and teachers of 55,705. When it is remembered what a great recruiting agency for church members the Sunday school has become, the significance of the gains in the number, equipment and scholars of this institution is a happy augury."

FARMERS URGED TO KEEP THEIR CATTLE

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—(Canadian Press)—The Department of Agriculture is extensively represented at the Toronto Exhibition and will be represented at the Quebec, Ottawa, Sherbrooke and Three Rivers livestock exhibitions. Having regard to the serious drought conditions of the past Summer, the Department is doing special educational work in the matter of livestock.

Insistence will be made upon the absolute importance of holding on to herds and flocks in the limit possible. The present unfavorable condition is regarded as purely temporary. Better influences will be bound to prevail in the near future, and those farmers who will also be urged to weed out depleted herds will be badly handicapped, both from the point of view of the soil and that of a renewal of livestock production.

Farmers are instructed at the exhibitions in the most economical use of feed throughout the Winter, and they will also be urged to weed out the first place the least desirable grades of breeding stock, holding to the last to the better strains.

Similar educational work has been done by the Department at fairs which have already been held in the West.

MILLERAND LIVES IN OLD CASTLE

Vacation of President of France Described

President Millerand of France has been spending his vacation in the medieval castle at Rambouillet, built by the Kings of France in the 15th century, according to an Associated Press mail dispatch.

The castle is surrounded by a wide moat and flanked by five huge towers. In days of old, when the kings received their guests at official functions, 50 officers commanding 1,000 guards and servants protected royalty and their friends. Recently, President Millerand, after receiving credentials from the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor de la Corderie, entertained him at luncheon. There were ten servants in the castle on that day.

The President rises at seven o'clock every morning, and takes a breakfast of toast, coffee, ham or bacon and eggs, while reading the morning papers. M. Millerand does not tolerate anyone to mark in blue pencil such articles as may be thought would be interesting to him. "I am an old newspaper editor myself," the President told his secretary one day. "I can read the papers as well as any one else."

A Walk. Then comes a long tramp through the forest of Rambouillet, from which he returns to the castle about 11:30 to sign whatever decrees as may have reached him from Paris, attend to personal telegrams and other business. Luncheon at one o'clock followed by a game of checkers or dominoes while smoking his cigar. Then sleep until 4:30.

A tennis court installed in 1921 upon the spot where five centuries ago stood a hand-ball alley is next visited by the President, who plays a few sets with his younger sons or some of the latter's friends. The President is very short sighted and wears reinforced automobile goggles while playing so as to avoid a possible return in the face. He invariably loses.

At 6:30 Mr. Millerand reads the afternoon mail, then has dinner and a little chat over the coffee. Curfew sounds at ten o'clock.

ITALIAN FACTIONS CEASE FIGHTING

Agreement Signed by Fascist and Socialists

Fascist and Socialists, after months of guerrilla warfare in Italy, have signed an agreement to abstain from fighting, and have constituted, in case of new disputes, "a court of last resort," whose judgments shall be final. Meanwhile, there are occasional skirmishes, but peace has practically come to terrorized Italy, according to an Associated Press mail dispatch.

The court consists of one arbitrator, Antonio De Nicola, president of the Chamber of Deputies, who is clothed with supreme power in the settlement of disputes between the two factions. De Nicola was elected to the speakership of the Chamber at the beginning of this session by a practically unanimous vote. He has a nationally known reputation for fairness. In his inaugural address he brought the House to its feet, Fascist yelling with Socialists and Communists to applaud his words.

According to the agreement, each side purposes to discipline its own members and to be responsible for their conduct. Inflicting severe penalties for infractions of the peace pact. The return of all "the trophies of war" is demanded. During the hostilities the Fascist colonelized and captured all kinds of Socialist spoils, including red banners, Socialist arms, emblems, office furniture, seals, record books and thousands of members' cards.

Back at Work. During the strife, the Fascist also had forced many Socialists to resign their positions. Now they may return to work in return for the promise that they will in no way interfere with the patriotic propaganda promulgated by the Fascist. They will pay the respect due the Italian flag.

The Fascist succeeded in the negotiations in persuading the Socialists to disown the organization of militant radicals known as "Arditi del popolo," who ambushed innocent travelers as well as Fascist. Several deaths and many wounded were the toll of these ambushes parties. The Government is using every means to rid the country districts of them. Strong patrols of carabinieri and royal guards reconnoitre the troublesome sections of the country.

The truce between the Fascist and Socialists was largely due to the "united" former chief-of-cabinet, Major Giurati, who worked incessantly to bring both sides to an understanding. Mussolini, the head of the Fascist, speaking of the pact said: "Since the Socialists have shown themselves inclined to love Italy and be patriotic, we are ready to offer them peace."

Veteran of Civil War Still Hale and Hearty

GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I feel twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier, and twenty-five years stronger expresses what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut Street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me."

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up, I now weigh one hundred and forty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could eat the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least."

"I never miss a chance of saying a good word for Tanlac and I would like to urge the boys of the 'Sixties' who are not feeling right to give it a trial, for I am sure it would put them in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by Duncan E. Campbell and leading druggists everywhere. (Adv.)

A. J. ANDERSON IS COMMONS CANDIDATE IN WEST YORK

Toronto, Sept. 5.—A. J. Anderson, a barrister of West Toronto, was nominated by the Liberal-Conservatives of the Federal riding of West York at a party convention. Nearly 100 delegates refused to vote and withdrew from the convention when three men who had been nominated refused to sign a pledge to support the choice of the convention.

The three were C. Leonard Wallace, brother of the late member, Capt. Wallace; G. B. Evans, of Weston; and R. G. Agnew, of West Toronto. Friends of Mr. Wallace had made the charge previous to the convention that the Anderson group had planned to pack the meeting.

Mr. Anderson, although formerly a Liberal, came out strongly as a supporter of Premier Meighen and an advocate of a protective tariff.

The convention probably will be held in Kingston on October 5.

UNUSUAL CASE AT DOVE CREEK

Children Cannot Reach School, Says Board Member

That there are twenty children of school age who do not go to school because there is no school within reasonable distance of their homes, was the statement made by A. Craig at a Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday. He said that in the Dove Creek district there were children who had been there four or five years and never gone to school. It was a disgrace to the district. There was an old school erected by settlers when No. 7 camp of the Comox Logging & Railway Company was running. It was on his place and he had offered it free of rent to the Education Department if they would fix it up. The last move was the suggestion that the settlers should make any renovations that were required and that the Education Department would do the rest, but this the settlers would not do.

It was disclosed in the course of discussion that all of these children were within a radius of five and a half miles of Courtenay and it was suggested as an alternative to the Education Department should provide transportation from a point on the nearest good road and should be brought into Courtenay School. However, the Board of Trade decided to confine themselves to pointing out to the school inspector that there were twenty children who were not receiving the advantages of school training to which they had a right.—Comox Argus.

PREPARING FOR FAIR.

Duncan, Sept. 5.—A meeting of the directors of the Cowichan Agricultural Society was held on Saturday morning last with the president, W. Paterson, in the chair, and the following present: Capt. Douglas Groves, Capt. R. E. Barclay, Messrs. C. J. V. Spratt, W. T. Corbushley, Mathews, G. A. Cheeke, A. Peterson, A. Herd, Mrs. B. C. Walker, Mrs. Hamish Morien, Mrs. E. L. Leather, and the secretary, W. Waldon.

Mr. Paul, from the Sahtlam district, was present to discuss with the directors the boundaries to be fixed between districts who send district exhibits to the Fall fair. Sahtlam lies between Glenora and Semoson, and the boundaries chosen for Sahtlam were Cowichan river to limits of the city of Duncan and the Island Highway and Cowichan Lake road. The division between Semoson and Westholme and other sections of the district divide themselves naturally in well understood groups corresponding more or less with the boundaries of farmers' unions.

A sum of $50 was voted for the children's sports on Friday of the fair. Mr. Dwyer, chairman of this committee, preferred ribbons for the teams winning events and grand trophies to the teams making the largest scores. First prize ribbons to count two points and second prize one point in the reckoning.

Mrs. B. C. Walker and W. M. Fleming reported from the Cowichan

Utility Poultry Association that at the last meeting of that body it had formally ceased to exist as an independent organization, but would act as a committee of the Agricultural Society until the end of the year. Its cash in hand, $84, would be turned over to the Agricultural Society. About 200 coops will need to be secured for the poultry show which the committee will hold during the last week of November. The secretary of the Agricultural Society will be secretary for this show. A committee of three directors, Mrs. B. C. Walker, Messrs. Herd and Crosland, were named to act with the poultry committee in the management of this show. Three members of the poultry committee, the Agricultural Society will be chosen at the next annual meeting of the former body. It was decided to raise the rent of the Women's Institute from $15 a month to $22.50 to correspond with that charged the G.W.V.A. for their room. The institute sublets one of its rooms for certain afternoons and an evening each week to the library for $10, and on other occasions to the Board of Trade for $1.50 a meeting. It was felt by some members that the institute was making a profit at the expense of the society. Mrs. Leather pointed out that the institute lets its rooms to the Children's Monthly Clinic, the Red Cross Society and other charitable institutions without charge and helps in the care of the books of the library.

It was decided that in case of partnership ownership in a bull he might be exhibited in a herd class by one of the owners only. In single classes he would be shown by the owners jointly.

A meeting of the Cowichan Children's Aid Society is to be held in the Toulham Hotel on Wednesday afternoon next by the kind permission of the management.

A. H. Lomas will be stationed as Indian agent at Duncan.

Valued Member Passes.

Duncan, Sept. 5.—The death occurred on Sunday, September 4, of Mrs. David Alexander, after a long and painful illness borne with patience and fortitude, and her loss will be greatly felt.

The late Mrs. Alexander, who was known and loved by all in the district, came to this country in the seventies, with her father and mother, two sisters and a brother. They lived first in Chemainus at the old Campbell place and afterwards came to Duncan, living on Quamichan Lake, part of their property being now owned by W. P. Thompson. She was married in 1880 to David Alexander and resided at "Oak Bank," their farm for many years. Their only son, David, was killed in action at Peabert, which was, of course, a terrible blow to them all. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three daughters, Mrs. E. Lomas, Mrs. W. Bailey and Miss Ruby Alexander, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Prevost and Mrs. Mainguy. Mrs. Alexander was a valued member of the King's Daughters and St. Peter's Church and Guild, and worked hard for the Red Cross and other Patriotic Societies during the war. Her loss will be widely felt and the deepest sympathy goes out to her dear ones left behind.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday from the family residence, "Rockhurst," at 2 p. m. and St. Peter's Church, Quamichan.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

WISH.

One day a little Buttercup growing in a field looked at a daisy growing near by and sighed to itself: "I wish around my neck I had a pretty fluted ruffle. I mean to ask the Fairies to-night to make me one as pretty as Daisy's."

"I ought to be more beautiful than Daisy, for I have more gold to go with a white ruffle," said Buttercup, flitting herself at the thought of how beautiful she would be when she wore the white collar.

Meek little Daisy heard her, but she did not tell Buttercup she envied her the sheen of her pretty gold dress, for Daisy knew that each one was dressed as Fairies wished them to be and for some good reason, so she pretended not to hear and turned her face away.

That night when the stars were out and the magic hours of midnight struck into the field, came the Fairies and with them their Queen in her bluish chariot drawn by four white mice.

"Good evening, pretty field flowers," said all the Fairies, and then each Fairy took from a stem a daisy and placed it on their head, bending two of the white petals to fasten it under their chins.

"Oh, dear," sighed Buttercup, "if I had a white ruffled collar I might have been worn by a Fairy and go dandling about, but here I have to stay and watch Daisy have all the fun as well as the honor of being chosen by the Fairies. I do wish I could get a chance to ask one for help."

When all the Fairies were dressed in their gold and white caps the Queen stood up in her chariot and spoke to one of her Fairies: "Bring me," she said, "a sip of dew in a golden cup."

Buttercup looked to see what was to happen, and to her astonishment the Fairy took her to the Queen, who drank the dew and said: "Of all the field flowers little Buttercup is the brightest gold, and we will use it for our Fairy cup every time we give a feast."

Little Buttercup trembled with delight until she thought she would fall from her stem, but the Queen did not seem to notice it and told the Fairy to put Buttercup back in her place.

"Oh, please, dear Queen, can we have a party in the dell to-night?" cried all the Fairies. "The goldcup will look so pretty on the moss-covered tables, and with our gold and white hats it is sure to be the prettiest party ever seen."

The Queen, always ready to grant any request that the Fairies make, gave her consent and over the fields flew the fairies like so many little bees gathering the buttercups, and filling the Queen's chariot until she could hardly find a place to sit.

Then off they drove to the dell and held the party, while all the goblins peeping from behind their rocks were so spellbound by the beauty of the scene they forgot to play tricks.

When the party was over the buttercups and daisies were carried back to the fields and when the sun looked down in the morning he did not dream they had spent the night in Fairyland.

Buttercup was never envious again, for if she had worn a ruffle she would never have been chosen for a cup at the Fairies' party, and Daisy, knowing that she was happy, nodded a pleasant good morning and never said a word about what she had overheard the day before.

One day a little Buttercup growing in a field looked at a daisy growing near by and sighed to itself: "I wish around my neck I had a pretty fluted ruffle. I mean to ask the Fairies to-night to make me one as pretty as Daisy's."

"I ought to be more beautiful than Daisy, for I have more gold to go with a white ruffle," said Buttercup, flitting herself at the thought of how beautiful she would be when she wore the white collar.

Meek little Daisy heard her, but she did not tell Buttercup she envied her the sheen of her pretty gold dress, for Daisy knew that each one was dressed as Fairies wished them to be and for some good reason, so she pretended not to hear and turned her face away.

That night when the stars were out and the magic hours of midnight struck into the field, came the Fairies and with them their Queen in her bluish chariot drawn by four white mice.

"Good evening, pretty field flowers," said all the Fairies, and then each Fairy took from a stem a daisy and placed it on their head, bending two of the white petals to fasten it under their chins.

"Oh, dear," sighed Buttercup, "if I had a white ruffled collar I might have been worn by a Fairy and go dandling about, but here I have to stay and watch Daisy have all the fun as well as the honor of being chosen by the Fairies. I do wish I could get a chance to ask one for help."

When all the Fairies were dressed in their gold and white caps the Queen stood up in her chariot and spoke to one of her Fairies: "Bring me," she said, "a sip of dew in a golden cup."

Buttercup looked to see what was to happen, and to her astonishment the Fairy took her to the Queen, who drank the dew and said: "Of all the field flowers little Buttercup is the brightest gold, and we will use it for our Fairy cup every time we give a feast."

Little Buttercup trembled with delight until she thought she would fall from her stem, but the Queen did not seem to notice it and told the Fairy to put Buttercup back in her place.

"Oh, please, dear Queen, can we have a party in the dell to-night?" cried all the Fairies. "The goldcup will look so pretty on the moss-covered tables, and with our gold and white hats it is sure to be the prettiest party ever seen."

The Queen, always ready to grant any request that the Fairies make, gave her consent and over the fields flew the fairies like so many little bees gathering the buttercups, and filling the Queen's chariot until she could hardly find a place to sit.

Then off they drove to the dell and held the party, while all the goblins peeping from behind their rocks were so spellbound by the beauty of the scene they forgot to play tricks.

When the party was over the buttercups and daisies were carried back to the fields and when the sun looked down in the morning he did not dream they had spent the night in Fairyland.

Buttercup was never envious again, for if she had worn a ruffle she would never have been chosen for a cup at the Fairies' party, and Daisy, knowing that she was happy, nodded a pleasant good morning and never said a word about what she had overheard the day before.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES DISCUSS QUESTION OF B.C. FEDERATION

Important Matters at Convention of Okanagan Bodies

Crawford Bay, Sept. 6.—Federation of British Columbia Women's Institutes on a provincial basis was the exclusive theme of deliberation at the Kootenay and Boundary District Institute at its opening session in the Crawford Bay public hall Tuesday morning, when sixteen local institutes of this territory were represented. Mrs. Y. S. MacLachlan, provincial secretary, and Mrs. R. W. Chalmers, district president, led the forces favoring federation, while Mrs. W. Garland Foster, of Nelson, was the rallying figure for the opposition. The weight of the discussion was of a favorable tenor, and in the end Mrs. Chalmers, as presiding officer, passed the question on to the local institutes, without the assembly expressing its views in the definite form of a vote.

Plan Is Outlined.

As explained by Mrs. MacLachlan, the proposal is to have the institutes in a provincial organization, with an annual conference, which still retaining the existing machinery of the four districts. There would also be smaller groups within the districts. The government, which now bears the expense of the district conferences would exchange this burden for the provincial conference. There would be a provincial board of directors in place of the advisory board, and the various branches of the work would be in the hands of permanent committees.

Among the activities that would be benefited by the wider scheme of organization, Mrs. MacLachlan mentioned the proposal for home nursing stations, and district nursing and child welfare. The campaign for eradication of social disease, she suggested, should be concentrated in five years if the existing act, secured by the institutes, was rigidly enforced.

Objections to Plan.

Mrs. Foster, acting at the request of Nelson's executive, marshaled the objections of the federation, criticizing it on the ground that it would be expensive, that it would violate tradition and result in a breaking away from the status of a government institution; that it would introduce the thin edge of the wedge of politics; that the province was made of districts of widely different character that had problems peculiar and local, that the time was not ripe for an affiliation. She contended that the Women's Institutes should not touch the realm of legislation, leaving that to other women's organizations, but should concentrate on matters affecting the home and woman's work.

Mrs. Chalmers stated that Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, had given his approval, so the institutes would not be less under the government's wing than they were at present. Institutes that did not come in would not be affected in their relations with the government.

Some Nelson members excused Nelson's "precipitate action" in taking a stand against federation, and professed an open mind on the issue.

A keen debate seemed to show the delegates to be favorably impressed with the federation idea, the chief doubt expressed being as to whether there would be a political phase to it.

President Gives Notable Address.

The other feature of the session was the address of Mrs. Chalmers, who announced that, following the advice of her physician, she would retire from active institute work for a period.

Mrs. Chalmers, in her notable valedictory, declared the Women's Institutes of the province were at the parting of the ways, where the type of organization under which they would seek to develop their great work must be decided. The plan of provincial

The Woman Hater

By RUBY M. AYRES

Author of "The One Who Forgot," "The Phantom Lover," "A Bachelor Husband," etc.

Miles did not speak for a moment; then he asked abruptly: "You have never seen Mrs. Dundas, have you?"

"I do not wish to see her. Philip has begged me to ask her here. As if I would have the creature in my house! A widow, and a scheming widow, of whom I have heard the most appalling tales."

"I can't say that I have heard anything very definite," Miles answered dryly. "There are rumors and rumors, but so far, I have not been able to hear of anything with actual proof."

Mrs. Tranter drew her shoulders together distastefully.

"I wish I could forget that I have ever heard her name," she said vehemently. "Miles, where did Philip meet her?"

"I haven't the least idea. He never speaks about her to me if he can avoid it. She seems to have just appeared in London—the Mastermans introduced her—and now, apparently, she goes everywhere."

"I hear that she has no money at all, and that she is terribly in debt, and that Ralph Masterman left his wife for her sake."

"Very likely," he agreed. Her anxious face flushed.

"You are so casual, Miles. Nothing ever seems to affect you. I wish you were like that. I wish I could tear out my heart and my nerves, and put a stone in their place."

He shook his head rebukingly. "You will not get your friends to agree to that, and you don't really mean it either. Now, come, cheer up, and I give you my word that things will be all right."

"It comforts me to hear you say so. I never knew any one who gave me such confidence as you do."

Miles smiled ruefully, and for the first time a little doubt crept into his heart.

Supposing he failed! Lillie had turned his will into clay in the days that were gone. She had twisted him round her little finger and made him a thing so abject in his devotion that he could only look back upon it all now in disgust.

But ten years was ten years, and much water had gone through the mill since then. He was a man now—an embittered man, who cared for nothing and nobody, unless one counted his friendship for Philip and his affection for Philip's mother.

He looked at her with remorseful eyes. He would hate to disappoint her more than anything in the world. She raised her anxious blue eyes suddenly to his face.

"Miles, it is my one dread that all the time they may have been married secretly; that he is keeping it from me."

Miles answered energetically. "I am sure that is not so. Philip is a rotten head, at least a secret-keeper, from me, at all events. I should have heard of it, even if nobody else did. No, I am sure that they are not married."

But the possibility haunted him as he was walking home. Mrs. Tranter might be right, after all. A woman's instinct was a wonderful thing—and yet, deep down in his heart he did not think that the marriage had already taken place.

As he had said, Philip was a bad hand at keeping a secret. His was the kind of nature that must share with some one; even as a boy he had never been able to keep a confidence.

In spite of the dissimilarity in their dispositions, there had been a very real friendship, and Miles felt utterly sore at the constraint that had been growing between them ever since Mrs. Dundas had appeared on the scene.

Of course, any marriage would inevitably make a difference, he knew, but this marriage—

And some appropriate lines came into his mind as he fitted the key into the door of his flat.

"My friend was already too good to lose. And seemed in the way of improvement yet. When she crossed his path with her hunting noose And over him drew her net."

Where did they come from, he wondered? Some poem he had read, he supposed, and it was strangely applicable to his and Tranter's case.

Faversham's man, hearing his master's step, came into the hall. He looked faintly surprised to see him back so soon.

"Any one been?" Miles asked casually.

"No, sir, but there was a telephone call—not five minutes ago. I just hung the receiver up, sir, as you came in."

"Oh! Who was it?"

"A lady, sir. She gave her name as Mrs. Dundas."

Miles echoed the name blankly. A little dull color rose in his face.

"Are you sure?" he asked.

"Yes, sir, quite sure. She spoke very clearly and gave me her address. She said she was staying in a flat in Grosvenor-square, and would you please call round if you came to the city."

Miles glanced involuntarily at the clock. It was only ten to eleven. It seemed incredible—how slowly the evening had passed and what a great deal seemed to have been crowded into the last four hours.

He was conscious of the man's interested eyes and dismissed him curtly. "Oh, all right; you need not wait up."

He went on into the sitting-room and shut the door.

What did she want with him? He stood and stared down into the fire; his heart was beating quickly, but more with anger than any other emotion.

Was she going to try her old tricks on him already? Or had she guessed his determination to prevent her marriage, and was this to be a scene of pleading?

He would not go—he could easily pretend that he had never received her message or that he had received it too late.

Till she crossed his path with her hunting noose And over him drew her net.

Odd how those lines haunted him. He wished he could remember where he had read them. He turned suddenly and, crossing the room, opened the door and called to his man.

"Are you there, Greyson?"

"Yes, sir—the man appeared in the hall."

Miles laughed rather apologetically.

"You're a bit of a scholar, I know," he said. "I know you read my books more than I read them myself. Where do these lines come from?" He repeated them hesitatingly. Greyson listened with masklike inscrutability; then he went over to a bookcase in Faversham's severely-furnished sitting-room, and took down a volume of Browning's poems. He ran his finger down the index, found the name and the poem he wanted and handed it to his master. "There you are, sir. It's called 'A Light Woman,' sir. A very beautiful poem, if I may say so, sir."

CHOLERA INFANTUM

The Fatal Disease OF CHILDREN

Mothers should look well after their young ones during the hot Summer months as this is the time of year when this Summer complaint is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance; the child rapidly loses flesh and is soon reduced to great languor and prostration which in a great many cases terminates fatally.

To quickly offset the vomiting purging and diarrhoea

LIBERALS PREPARE FOR BIG CAMPAIGN

Premier and Local Members to Announce Stand on Dominion Issues

Premier Oliver, the Hon. John Hart and Joseph B. Clearhouse, the three Liberal Members for Victoria, will appear at the opening of the new Liberal Club in the Waitt Building, Broughton and Government Streets, between September 12 and 17, and make known their attitude on Dominion issues and the election now under way, it was announced today.

W. M. Ivel, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, said today that it was likely that the nominating convention would not be held until after the actual date of the election is announced.

Ivel to Come Out

Mr. Ivel is considered a leading figure among aspirants for the Liberal nomination because of his prominence in Liberal ranks, the work he has been doing during the last few years, and the study he has been giving to Canadian politics.

The name of Henry Hall will likely be up before the convention, although he left Saturday for a short trip to England. Mr. Hall is reported to have behind him some of the important veteran elements.

Col. W. N. Winsby, of the Liquor Board, is being put forward for the Liberal nomination by some of the members of the party.

W. G. Stone, former president of the G.W.V.A. here, is being strongly backed by some of the big soldier organizations. He also has the backing of a number of Canadian Liberal free traders and former English Liberals.

Stuart Henderson will likely be out again, it is reported, for the nomination.

LOVEKIN PARTY HOME FROM TRIP

Riverside Folks Make Remarkable Trip Through Vancouver Island

Attainment of a long cherished dream of exploration was accomplished this Summer when A. C. Lovekin of this city, accompanied by Mrs. Lovekin, their son and daughter, Osgood and Charlotte Lovekin, and Miss Marion O. Roads of Los Angeles, spent five weeks in the virgin wilderness of Vancouver Island. The story was recently told in The Times while they were here.

The accompanying is the story in the Riverside Daily Press:

The party went by train to Seattle, and from Victoria, on Vancouver Island, motored to Sprout Lake, where they made their home at the mountain lodge owned by Mrs. Wark, who is a noted figure in that part of the country.

From this lodge as headquarters the party made many trips through surrounding lakes and over mountains.

Take a Hard Trip

The most difficult trip, as well as the most interesting, was over the mountains to the Big Basin. This trip was made by Mr. Lovekin, Miss Charlotte, Miss Roads and Osgood. The usual entrance to the Big Basin is effected from the north by canoe, but the Riverside people decided to go in from the south. They went by canoe through Great Central Lake, which lies just north of Sprout Lake, and packed in from the extremity of the lake over the mountains by way of a deserted prospectors' trail into the basin.

This country is practically unexplored. There is but one settler on Great Central Lake, a man named Drinkwater, who first discovered the trail from Bedwell Sound across to the lake.

The explorers found much snow in the Big Basin. This unusual condition is explained by the fact that during the last winter the precipitation was the greatest ever known in that part of the country. Rain and snow fell from September to May, almost continuously. In order to enter a deserted cabin in the basin it was necessary to dig through six feet of snow.

On this trip the Riversides saw camping de luxe. A party of people from Seattle flew in their hydroplane over the mountains into the lake region, and were camped on the shores of one of the secluded lakes.

Beautiful Scenery

Scenery in the basin is comparable to the Cascade. One stream makes a fall of 2,000 feet. Much of the country is unexplored, while some of it is unexplored. The land is covered with magnificent timber. Fish and game are found there in any number, and the animals are very tame. While no grizzly bears are found, many black bears make their home on the island.

Lake Sprout is known as the "Lucerne of British Columbia," and world travelers state that it is one of the most beautiful lakes to be found on any continent. It is surrounded by mountains covered to the spire line with timber and dotted with wooded islands.

After returning to Victoria the party came south by way of Berkeley where Osgood remained. He will attend the University of California this year.

Mr. Lovekin made two trips to Vancouver Island this Summer. The first one was on business, and Mr. Lovekin and his son went to the island early in May. During their stay there they made many interesting trips into the central region, and stayed for some time in Alberni, situated at the head of Alberni canal, which extends two-thirds of the way across the island, coming in from the west. Osgood remained in Victoria while his father returned to the south for the rest of the party.

Sees Big Future

Mr. Lovekin is enthusiastic over the future of the island, Victoria, in his estimation, is destined to become one of the greatest shipping ports of the continent. Situated at the southern extremity of the island, it is the first port of call to vessels coming from the Pacific to Seattle or Vancouver, B.C., and is the last port of call for vessels leaving the Mainland.

Owing to the Japanese current, which bathes the island on both sides, the climate there is remarkably cool in Summer and mild in Winter. In fact, according to Mr. Lovekin, the climate of that country is much the same as that of Southern California, and many of the same products are grown there, with the exception of citrus fruits.

That trade of the future will centre in the Pacific is the belief of Mr. Lovekin, and western ports will grow rapidly in the coming years. Eastern trade will come to western ports via the Panama canal, and the trade of Australia will come to these ports.

Many Tourists

Victoria is the Los Angeles of the north, says the returned traveler, in its attractions for tourists. Spring, Summer and Fall are the best tourist seasons, although many people are to be found there from other parts of the country all year around.

While on the northern trip the Riversides found more American automobiles than Canadian.

Vancouver Island is a storehouse of rich natural resources of timber, minerals, fish and game and has a greater supply of these than any other district of the same size. The country is a land of to-day and of the future.

The western coast is fretted with fjords, much as the coast of Norway, and many splendid bays and inlets are to be found there. These, however, are inaccessible now except by water. The B. C. Government is making surveys for roads to go from the south and east of the island to the western coast. While these roads will be in all probability wagon roads at first, they will be followed later by railways.

The land is being opened up to people from the outside, but it will be many years before the country is known by a great many people. One of its beauties is its state-of-nature, and the Provincial Government realizes this fact. Within a year or so the coast highway from California through Oregon and Washington will be completed, and it is ex-

CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON HOLDS INTEREST IN JAPAN

Japanese in Favor of Disarmament, Declares W. T. Payne, C. P. O. S. Manager

The forthcoming conference at Washington is deeply interesting to the Japanese, according to William T. Payne, manager for the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd., at Yokohama, who reached here yesterday by the liner Empress of Russia.

There is a genuine desire for the curtailment of armaments in Japan, stated Mr. Payne, but a sympathetic attitude towards Japan should be adopted on the part of the other countries, as well as in other countries, but Mr. Payne felt sure that the general feeling in Japan was in favor of an international agreement for peace. Japanese statesmen, Mr. Payne added, were now preparing to leave Japan for Washington to attend the historic conference.

To Return in October.
Mr. Payne is going to Montreal to confer with headquarters on the company's ocean services. He expects to return to Japan in October. Speaking on transportation, Mr. Payne stated that travel had been exceptionally heavy on the Pacific. On reaching Montreal he expects to learn something definite regarding the advent of the new liners Empress of Canada and Empress of China. It is unofficially reported that the two large passenger liners will be in regular service on the trans-Pacific route by next May.

FINE YACHT RACES SEEN AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Sept. 6.—The afternoon regatta held by the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club on Labor Day was successful in bringing out a good number of entries.

The special sloop-class made a pretty race, this being the fifth and last of the series. Cao Brothers' Spirit I won, and by coming in first wins the cup for the series, with three firsts and two seconds.

In the heavy sloop class, started at 2:30 p.m., Whitehead's Gwendolyn won, leading all the way on the two rounds of the course and finishing at 4:55.42, with Onoma, sailed by W. H. Billings, in second place.

The cruiser race started at 3 o'clock, and sailed once around the triangle was won by the Yawl Minerva, sailed by W. Graveley. Mr. Nicholson's Intrepid, a Victoria yawl, came third.

IMPORTER MAKING SLOW PROGRESS

700 Miles Off Cape Flattery Last Night, Towing at 4 1/2 Knots

Making but four and a half knots an hour the crippled steamship Canadian Importer, in tow of the tug Sea Lion, was last night reported to be seven hundred miles from Cape Flattery, according to radio messages picked up by the Gonzales station here.

The tug Sea Lion was finding it difficult to tow the waterlogged ship and the tug Sea Monarch has been dispatched from San Francisco to assist her. A second hawser will be put aboard, and this, it is expected, will have the effect of steadying the craft. With two powerful tugs hooked on, better time should be made. The Sea Monarch is due to reach the scene tomorrow morning.

The Pacific Salvage Company have been advised that the Canadian Importer is in "good shape." It is not definitely known which ship of the rescue fleet is carrying the men of the Canadian Importer. Doubtless a number of the crew are still on the ship, but the majority are believed to be on the Canadian Winner, including the eleven men who were picked up off San Francisco by the tug Sea Lion as she was headed for the wreck.

Winner Due Friday.
According to the adies, wireless messages it is probable that the steamship Canadian Winner, Captain Walter Wingate, will arrive here about Friday next with the Canadian Importer's crew. The Canadian Winner is standing by until the return of the salvage steamer Algerine, which has gone to Eureka to replenish her depleted provision lockers.

The steamship Canadian Observer, which justified her name by locating the drifting Canadian Importer, has been ordered to return to San Francisco and will again take up her regular sailings between California and British Columbia.

Quickly Flooded.
The first information about the cause of the mishap to the Canadian Importer was revealed to-day, when it was learned that the steamer sprung a leak shortly after departing from Vancouver on August 13. The water quickly flooded her engine room and filled her radio. Afterward she settled in the water with her deck awash and her cargo of lumber adrift, causing the vessel to take a heavy list to starboard.

YACHT SIR TOM WON SECOND RACE

Beat Patricia by Lead of One Minute and Fourteen Seconds

Vancouver, Sept. 6.—In the second race of the international series for the Isherwood Cup, sailed over a windward and return course on English Bay, Labor Day, the Seattle yacht club's defender, Sir Tom, sailed by Ted Geary, won from the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club's challenger, Patricia, with Ron Maitland at the helm, by the small margin of 1 minute and 14 seconds. The first race of the series was won by Patricia with a lead of 6 minutes and 2 seconds, so that the boats are now tie with a race each. The fate of the cup is to be decided in the best three out of five races, so that at least two more races will have to be sailed. These are being raced off at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. on Tuesday and at 10 a. m. on Wednesday morning if a fifth race is necessary.

Beat to Windward.
The race was postponed from 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning on account of lack of wind, but just before the race started a light but steady breeze came in from the westward giving the two Class R yachts a beat to the windward on the first leg to a buoy anchored two miles out in the bay. The course was a windward and return one three times around, totalling 12 miles.

NEW FREIGHT LINE ACROSS PACIFIC IS JAPANESE PLAN

Yamashita Kisen Kaisha Considering Establishment of Tri-angual Service

The Yamashita Kisen Kaisha of Kobe has finished drafting a plan for the inauguration of a triangular shipping line between Japan, Australia and North America. This plan has long been conceived by the company as a means of meeting the prevailing shipping depression, and the proposed line is for a route yet favored by Japanese shipping companies. With regard to this project, Mr. Imahishi, manager of the Tokyo office of the Yamashita Kisen Kaisha, came to this coast to make preliminary arrangements. He returned to Japan August 29 and has since been engaged in drafting a plan at the company's head office in Kobe.

If a favorable decision is reached by the directors, it is expected the proposed service will be opened early in September. Though it is referred to as a triangular line between Japan, Australia and America, the service will probably be maintained only between Australia and America in order to avoid competition with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, both of which are maintaining services to Australia. It is also understood that the company will carry only cargo without handling passengers.

To begin with, a steamer of 8,000 tons will be dispatched. The probable ports of call include Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Auckland, Honolulu, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver.

SHANGHAI ATTORNEY TO WASHINGTON

William S. Fleming, Shanghai attorney, and said to be a central figure in recent sensational developments in connection with the United States court for China, reached here yesterday by the liner Empress of Russia. Mr. Fleming is going to Washington, D. C., in connection with the question of the United States court for China, of which an investigation is reported to have been ordered by the President of the United States. It is an interesting coincidence that Judge Charles S. Loring, who presides over the Shanghai court, passed through here on the liner Silver Star en route to Washington.

Caused Sensation.
The case of the American court created a sensation in Shanghai and throughout North China, it is said. Mr. Fleming and Judge Loring will be in the American capital at the same time, and with the official investigation of the court said to be ordered some startling developments are said to be imminent.

MARINE NOTES

The sailing ship Belfast, laden with sugar from Peru, passed up to Vancouver yesterday via Port Townsend.

One of the cruisers built at the Wallace shipyards at North Vancouver is about to be dismantled in the San Francisco shipyards. This is the steamer Kestrel, built here in 1903 by the Wallace shipyards, and operated until 1912 as a fisheries patrol boat for the Dominion Government on this coast. The fast little cruiser was then purchased by Armstrong Bros., who own a plantation near Honolulu, and she left her shores to which she has never returned. At one time reports came from Honolulu that the boat had been chartered and was in the black-birding traffic among the Southern Pacific Islands. The engines are very powerful and will be put in some other boat at San Francisco.

SCHOOL OPENING EXERCISES TO-DAY

Peace Arch Memorial Ceremony Explained to Pupils; Large Attendance

With mingled feelings of various sorts, some six thousand school children of Victoria returned to their studies this morning, principals and teachers put in a busy day arranging classes and the usual details that go with the re-opening of school after the long summer vacation.

In view of the recent furor in connection with High School affairs probably the greatest interest from the public standpoint centres in the appointment of new teachers in that institution.

The school board will meet at 8 o'clock to-morrow night to consider these new appointments, and to deal with other matters of importance.

In view of the ceremony at Blaine to-day in connection with the dedication of the International Peace Arch to commemorate over one hundred years of peace between the two great English speaking races, a feature of to-day's doings at the schools was the exercises held in each school, where addresses were given by prominent business men of the city dealing with the subject.

The school auditoriums were decorated with Canadian and American flags, and the history and purpose of the Peace Arch was explained. Every school in the re-arrangement of the schools incidental to the opening of additional rooms at Tillamook, which will enable Parkdale pupils to be moved to Tillamook from Tolmie School.

PLANS SILVER TEA.

Court Maple Leaf A. O. F. will hold a silver tea to-morrow afternoon in the Foresters' Hall, Broad Street. A musical programme is being arranged and Mrs. Ridgway has kindly consented to act as accompanist. Every one is invited to come along between the hours of 2.30 and 6 o'clock and spend a pleasant afternoon.

Car Involves Baby Carriage.

At 1 p. m. on Sunday a curious accident occurred when a car driven by Suro Baneroff knocked down a light standard, the light coming down through the top of the head of the driver. In the fall a baby carriage was upset and the baby, a child of J. E. Ellis, Quebec Street, was thrown out, and suffered severe cuts on the face. Dr. Hunter attended the driver and the infant. The driver had fainted prior to the accident, and could not remember the circumstances. The injured were taken to their respective homes. The light standard snapped off close to the ground, and will have to be replaced.

Historic Feature Marks Labor Day Ceremony

Ceremonies preliminary to to-day's celebration at Blaine of the centenary of peace between the United States and Canada attracted some hundreds of people to the "Barn" before the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon, when Victorians were given the opportunity of inspecting the historic relics from the "Mayflower" and "Beaver," which are being incorporated in the Peace memorial arch on the international boundary.

Pictureque Ceremony.

The relics in their steel casket were escorted from the Seattle boat by four stalwart members of the city police force, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Boys' Naval Brigade band to the steps of the Parliament Buildings, where they were formally received by Premier Oliver, Mayor Porter, Alderman Todd and other dignitaries. The relics were brought from Seattle by Samuel Hill, Frank Terrace, of Seattle, who has acted as custodian of the relics since their acquisition. C. Vacher-Corbier, French Consul for Seattle, and R. Ausias de Turenne, Belgian Consul for Seattle.

A picturesque note of color was imparted to the little ceremony by the British, American, French and Belgian flags which were held respectively by Mayor Porter, R. B. Mosher of the American Consulate, Mons. Vacher-Corbier and Mons. de Turenne.

Premier's Address.

In formally welcoming the party, the Premier congratulated Mr. Hill upon the fruition of his efforts to erect a monument to commemorate the hundred years of peace between America and Canada, and made reference to the undying history of the Mayflower, "the cradle of the American nation," and the "Beaver," which had played so important a part in the history of British Columbia.

To-day's ceremony at Blaine, continued the Premier, marked another step in the march of progress towards the day when all men would indeed be brothers and all nations united in the sacred cause of peace. The Premier expressed the hope that the nations represented at the ceremony by their respective Consuls would always remain in the position of allies of the British Empire. At a time when nations were considering the great question of disarmament, it was well that attention should be given to the remedying of another form of warfare which had almost as disturbing an effect upon the world as actual hostilities—economic warfare and the impediments created by man himself in obstructing business and progress throughout the world, concluded the Premier.

ZANE GREY'S GREAT
STORY ON SCREEN

Royal Presents "Desert Gold"
All This Week

The cast of Zane Grey's "Desert Gold," produced by Benjamin B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner for Zane Grey Pictures, Inc., a W. W. Hodkinson release, to be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day, reads like a page from "Who's Who in Filmdom." Seldom if ever before has such an all-star cast been gathered and never before to bring to life the novel of a famous author. In choosing the cast more than 200 players were interviewed. Among the principals are such famed personages as E. K. Lincoln, W. Lawson Butt, Edward Coxen, Walter Long, William Bainbridge, Frank Lanning, Eileen Percy, Margery Wilson, Arthur Morrison, Russell Simpson and Laura Winston.

E. K. Lincoln has been a reader "fan" of Zane Grey for years, and although the star and the author had never met, Mr. Grey so greatly admired Mr. Lincoln's work that he wanted him for "Dick Gale." W. Lawson Butt, the famous English actor, was chosen by Mr. Grey nearly a year ago to create the role of the Yaqui. For the part of the dashing border captain, George Thorne, Edward Coxen was chosen as ideal and to the man who has won fame by such virile roles as he played in "Carmen of the Klondike," the part of Capt. Thorne opened wonderful new opportunities. The extremely important "heavy" Rojas, the bandit chief, is taken by the "worst hated man in pictures," Walter Long, whose work as "Gus" in Griffith's "Birth of a Nation" will be recalled everywhere.

The women's roles are in the hands of beautiful golden-haired Eileen Percy and the dark and willowy Margery Wilson, players notable for some remarkable screen achievements.

On the same programme two good short subjects will also be shown, the comedy "The Game Lady," and a Chester Outing. Miss Beila McEwan has arranged something new and will give a Scotch song week, singing in costume "Bonnie Bessie" and "Oh, Sing to Me the Auld Scotch Songs."

Larry Semon, Vitagraph's comedy king, is showing changing in midair from one airplane to another in his newest comedy, "The Bell Hop." Most of the fun happens in a hotel, as the title indicates. The hotel finally gets too hot to hold Larry, however, so he takes the air and does some airplane stunts.

WALLACE REID IN "THE HELL DIGGERS"

Stirring Story of the Outdoor at Dominion

Would you give up a big job if the girl you love is opposed to your work as a matter of principle?

That is the question that Wallace Reid, Paramount star, has to decide in his newest vehicle, "The Hell Diggers," which was shown yesterday to delighted audiences at the Dominion Theatre.

Lois Wilson is the girl, and her father looks upon the young author and his employers as his bitterest enemies. However, the hero becomes interested in the case of his opponents and finally allies himself with them, which means a big struggle with a strong political corporation. The fight comes off in grand style, physically as well as politically and the star puts it over in characteristic Reid style.

The cast which includes Frank Leigh, Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Geldart and Bud Post was more than adequate.

MILD EPIDEMIC GOING ROUND

It is due to impurities in the water, causes—cramps, diarrhoea, headache. Those who take twenty drops of Nerviline in sweetened water usually get quick relief. "It is really wonderful how good old Nerviline fixes up a sour upset stomach, how quickly it stops hiccoughs, how quickly it puts a stop to those nasty attacks of gas. Every home should keep a bottle or two of trusty old Nerviline on hand, 25 cents everywhere. (Advt.)

GREAT WASHBURN

"A Full House" Presented at Columbia

Bryant Washburn, popular star in "A Full House," his latest Paramount picture at the Columbia Theatre for to-day, has another one of those delightful roles which have so greatly contributed to his reputation as a comedian of unusual ability. As George Howell, a newly-wed, he gets into a comical mix-up in which figure stolen jewels, love letters, a vampire, a couple of thieves and three policemen, thrown in for good measure. Lois Wilson appears as his blushing bride.

"A Full House" was scenarized by Alice Eytan from the famous Fred Jackson farce. It was filmed under the direction of James Cruze who has been responsible for some of the largest successes of Wallace Reid, and Bryant Washburn.

There is also Charlie Chaplin in two reels of rollicking good time.

BARRIE'S STORY NOW PICTURIZED

Variety Screens "What Every Woman Knows"

Constituting part of the basic plot of "What Every Woman Knows," William DeMille's latest production for Paramount which will be seen at the Variety Theatre all this week, is one of the most amazing bargains which has ever come to light, either in truth or in fiction.

The story is laid in England and Scotland and a bargain is consummated between Alick Wyllie an old Scotchman, his two bachelor sons and his quaint, prim daughter of twenty-six on one side and a young English student with political ambitions on the other.

The father and brothers have almost despaired of finding a husband for the young woman because she is unlike other women. Then comes a poor young English student, who through a window into the Wyllie library late at night to study the books. The Wyllies catch the young "burglar," hear his explanation and then offer him three hundred pounds with which to complete his studies, if, in return he will agree that in five years, the daughter shall marry him if she so wishes.

The deal is closed and then begins a story which offers an altogether new angle on the matrimonial question. Lois Wilson was chosen to play the leading feminine role, and Conrad Nagel enacts the young politician and student. Charles Ogle, Fred Huntly, Guy Oliver, Winter Hall, Lillian Tucker, Claire McDowell and Robert Brower have important parts. The picture is a screen version of the famous play by Sir James M. Barrie and Olga Printzlau wrote the scenario.

Other features are an illustrated song, "Why Dear," and an educational film.

"PEG O' MY HEART"

Mildred Page Players Will

The play chosen for to-morrow night is "Peg o' My Heart," with Miss Page in the beautiful part of "Peg." This justly famous play is as well known it hardly needs any special recommendation, its name is enough.

The entire cast is well suited to the requirements of the play and "Peg o' My Heart" promises to be another big success for Miss Page and her clever company. Also Wednesday night will again be prize night and anyone with a guess for Capt. Kild must attend Wednesday night or forfeit their place in this interesting contest.

BLACKSMITH IS WORKING AGAIN

Ole Dahl Says He Was Almost
Down and Out, But He Now
Feels Fine

"I am feeling like a new man these days and Tanlac did the work for me," said Ole Dahl, blacksmith, 1100 Powell Street, East, Vancouver, B.C. "I had the 'flu,' which left my stomach so upset that even the sight of food was distasteful to me. I only ate enough to keep going, and even that I suffered misery at times, especially from gas forming on my stomach, and giving me palpitation of the heart, and making me feel that I was going to smother. My back hurt me so bad that I couldn't bend over to pick up a tool off the grounds, and I was so nervous and fidgety I got little rest either day or night.

"Tanic put me on the road to health right from the start and now I eat anything I want, sleep like a log, and get up in the morning feeling fine. I feel so good I am going back to my forge again, for I can swing a hammer as good as I ever did in my life."

Tanic is sold in Victoria by Duncan E. Campbell and all other druggists everywhere. (Advt.)

LADY FORBES-ROBERTSON WILL TOUR CANADA

The transcontinental tour which has been arranged for Lady Johnston Forbes-Robertson by Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, will involve the presentation by that gifted actress of two plays, "Paddy the Next Best Thing" and "The Knave of Diamonds," both of them extremely popular productions in the Old Country, in which the wife of the greatest living English actor has achieved a very marked success.

Lady Forbes-Robertson last appeared in Canada with Sir Johnston on his farewell tour, and on that occasion she endeavored to a very large public by her delightful portrayals of a series of widely different roles, such as "Stasia" in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," "Mabel" in "The Light That Failed," "Ophelia" in "Hamlet" and Peggy in "Mice and Men." Her art is the quintessence of that refinement which finds its fullest expression in subtle roles, but she is equally at home in stage portraits that call for frank and simply depicted characterization.

FRENCH CANADIAN SOPRANO AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 6. — (Canadian Press). — Jeanne Dusseau, the French Canadian soprano, is among the new stars who have been engaged by Mary Garden for the forthcoming season of the Chicago Opera Company.

Ms. Dusseau, as representative of the Dominion among Chicago's new songbirds, will find herself in company with representatives of almost every other nation on earth. George M. Spangler, assistant manager for Miss Garden, has just returned from Europe where he and Mary combed six countries for talent. An announcement from the company's office here states that twenty-one new stars have been engaged and thirty-four of the former members of the company are to be retained.

Among the other new stars will be Tina Pattara, the Dalmatian tenor who Spangler predicts will be the reigning matinee idol, and Clara Dux, the sensation of Berlin and Vienna. The Metropolitan Company made an effort to get her, but she preferred to sing with Miss Garden's company. Others are Cincinta Ballester, Spanish baritone; Nina Koschets, Russian dramatic soprano; Edward Iankow a Polish basso; Lydia Lipkowska, Russian coloratura soprano; Mary McCormick, a U. S. singer; Graziella Pareot, Italian coloratura soprano; Jeanne Schneider, French soprano; and Joseph Schwartz, German baritone.

The early action of Antonio Moreno's new Vitagraph production, "The Secret of the Hills," is laid in the city of London, and the fog scenes are most convincing. Needless to say, a special trip to London was not required for these scenes, and the secret of just how the effect was gained seems to be held by Chester Bennett who directed this production.

Motorists in Tour For Canadian Highway Find Housing Good

"In complying with your wish that I give you my impressions of the hotels and accommodations in general serving the route covered by the recent Canadian highway pathfinding tour through parts of Washington and Southeastern British Columbia to Calgary, I would state that the hotel business this year has been quieter than in former years," said Stephen Jones, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, yesterday.

In Washington.

"Tourist travel commenced much later this year, and there seems to be more automobile camping parties than have been noticed in former seasons.

"The hotels located on the highway between Seattle and Spokane are enjoying splendid business from automobile tourists," said Mr. Jones. "At Ellensburg we had to wait for rooms, and Mr. Reynolds, the proprietor of the excellent hotel, reports splendid business."

"While hotels at Spokane find trade quite satisfactory, the rushes of former years are not much in evidence. The party were loyal, entertained by W. F. Wright, the manager of the catering department of the Davenport Hotel, and we felt that our stay was altogether too short in that prominent city," was Mr. Jones's appreciative reminiscence.

"At a likeable resort in Idaho we found an excellent hotel operated by H. Moore, who told us of having experienced a splendid trade, in fact, the best in the history of his popular hotel which has accommodation for 150 guests and had been running to capacity throughout the entire season. The success of this hotel is due entirely to the splendid highways ending in this beauty spot," noted Mr. Jones, declaring the trade was largely from Seattle, Spokane and points further East.

Business Dull

"I am sorry that I cannot report such promising business for the hotels in the cities of British Columbia we passed through," said the Dominion's host regretfully. "The hotels at Cranbrook, Fernie and Elko have suffered a great deal from the depression existing in this district."

DISARMAMENT.

To the Editor:—Your recent cartoon (Issue Sept.) "Why Does He Not Drop the Gun?" brought some constructive criticism to thought.

The idea brought out by the cartoon was burden and taxation almost leading to chaos.

This was a good cartoon, but if disarmament is not to-day raised in thought by cartoonist, writer and speaker from the basis of "Burden and Taxation" to that higher basis of Brotherhood Love, then our children will be found traveling the same road we are, only it will be more costly. For the chemists of all the nations are working at top speed and the submarine and flying machines are very much cheaper than the battleships and big guns.

There are in this city, in every city, town and hamlet, men and women who can lead thought away from the material basis of this question to the moral.

It is simply one more opportunity when "the fields are ripe for harvest."

Of course, if our generation misses it, some future one will take it, for eventually all truth must come to man.

J. A. GREENIDGE.

THE GOLDEN CARROT

To the Editor:—At a recent gathering held at Hyde Park, London, pointed reference was made by the Bishop of St. Albans to the social relationship of men now finding themselves placed in as a result of the breaking up of capitalism.

The demonstration was organized by the London Union of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, and representatives of all Christian denominations spoke from seven platforms on the Social Message of Christianity.

The Bishop in course of his remarks said: "The late war was the outcome of a bad system built up on the principles of the jungle. There was an atmosphere of fear in jungle life which created an atmosphere of fear which was at the bottom of a great deal of wrong in the present system, because it led to self-protection, then self-centredness and then selfishness."

It was quite wrong to appeal to the love of gain in man. "We have to treat men decently and not make them believe that God wants them and not hold out the golden carrot of gain before them as a donkey."

After the speeches, a resolution was put from each platform and enthusiastically carried, declaring that the present system, based largely on restricted competition for private and sectional advantage, must be brought to an end, since it fosters the sins of avarice and injustice, laid a yoke of thralldom upon the masses of men and women and led almost inevitably to war.

Evidently they have red-blooded Christians among the English clergy at home; men who are not afraid of spreading the gospel of service and liberation of the masses from exploitation.

Perhaps some day, the wobbly willies of the West will see the light and in conjunction with newspaper editors and other public educators, bury their dope pots, march with humanity toward the next dawn now breaking, into a new civilization with new concepts of industrialism and spirituality.

PHIL R. SMITH.

THE P.G.E.

To the Editor:—As the excursionists are back from the trip over the P.G.E., and they give different views about the road—some advocate a change on the road, some are in favor of constructing a link from Clinton to Ashcroft and doing away with the line from Clinton to Squamish. The branch from Clinton to Ashcroft would not be of much benefit to the road, for there would not be much trade between Clinton and Ashcroft. I would suggest the best link would be to Kamloops from Clinton. It would open up good settled districts in the Bonaparte, Deadman, Criss Creek and Copper Creek, where there is a large amount of timber, and in time there could be a line on to Mayhood lake and the upper Clear Water river, where there is a large settlement without transportation. This would tap the great fall on Myrtle river that would furnish enough electricity to run all the railroads. The trade that would be derived would more than make up for the expense of building, for at Kamloops it would connect with the Okanagan branch and C.N.R. and C.P.R. There would be a good grade all the way if there could be a good grade out of Kamloops. And there is also a good chance to sell the P.G.E. to the C.N.R. or C.P.R.

I would be pleased to show any parties over the supposed route.

MR. THOMPSON'S CHAIR.

To the Editor:—In answer to a letter in your paper of September 3, written by E. M. Pearce, I wish to answer that, firstly, the S. C. R. did bring me over at my own request, which was natural as they removed me from Victoria against my wishes and I was dissatisfied with the treatment at Shaughnessy Hospital. So I was entitled to free transportation. Secondly, I sent in my application for a chair to Dr. W. A. Arnold, Medical Director, Ottawa, July 10, and had word from him that a chair would be ordered for me. Well the S. C. R. in Victoria know my case and what kind of a chair I can use but on Saturday sent me a chair which was only an insult to my helplessness condition. I have already informed Dr. Pearce of this and sent the chair back to them. If Dr. Pearce and the heads of the S. C. R. like to call a meeting of reliable citizens I should like to be there so that the public can hear both sides of the question and judge accordingly. I have nothing to be ashamed of in my service.

I also wish to state that I sent several letters to the Director in Ottawa regarding my treatment but no notice has been taken.

COMFORT WILL BE KEYNOTE OF NEW FILM THEATRE

Capitol to Open To-morrow; Standardized Paramount Programme Planned

With the opening of the New Capitol Theatre to-morrow evening Victoria will have possession of a deluxe pattern of edifice for the projection of leading pictures in film. There are many theatres built for this purpose, but in the great majority the comfort of the patron has been sacrificed to the desire of seating as many as may be crammed into the house, with the new Capitol it is otherwise. The architect, J. M. Jeffries, A.R.B.A., with the assistance of architect G. Rider Morris, have built a theatre that will feature the comfort of the patrons first, last and all the time. Systematic discomfort has been very clearly avoided in the new theatre, and the builders, The Paramount Victoria Theatres Ltd., on behalf of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, controlling the Capitol Theatres throughout Canada, have added yet another edifice to their chain that will reflect great credit on their foresight and efficient management. That the Capitol Theatre here is an asset to the city will not be doubted when once seen. It is a handsome structure, on the Italian Renaissance style, with an interior that lifts it from the average of motion picture houses into what would correspond to the grand opera edifice on the legitimate stage. That the quality of the films to be displayed here is vouched for by the management of the Paramount Company, and the retention of John M. Robertson, who for eight years has made such a success of the Dominion Theatre across the street from the new edifice. Mr. Robertson will work in conjunction with Ralph Ruffner, manager of the Vancouver Capitol in securing the best that can be got in the market of filmdom.

Blending of Arts.
The programme to be inaugurated in the houses of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Ltd., will be called Capitol Entertainment—in future the trade slogan of the big amusement company. According to N. L. Nathanson, managing director of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Capitol Entertainment is a synchronizing or blending of all

HOW NATURE MIMICS TO PROTECT LIFE NOW SHOWN AT MUSEUM

Frank Williamson, noted student of lepidoptera, who has collected remarkable specimens from India, Australia, Ceylon, South America, Africa, Japan, Europe and other parts of the world, has lent his collection to the Provincial Museum.

The collection, while on exhibition, is in charge of Frank Kermode, curator of the museum.

"There has never been anything like this collection in this country," said Mr. Kermode to-day.

Mr. Williamson is now living at Sooke.

Scientists who have examined the collection declare that the examples of protective mimicry in Mr. Williamson's collection should be studied by all persons interested in the way nature goes about protecting forms of life.

In the collection is the dead-fly butterfly from India, which folds up with the shape, size and color of a dead leaf. Even the veins of the leaf are imitated.

Other butterflies are shown imitating the brilliancy of the flowers among which they live.

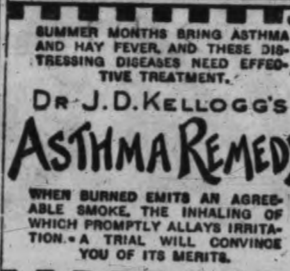

Some of the striking specimens come from Tibet.

Mr. Williamson has been studying the lepidoptera of the world for years, specializing on the similarity of species, and geographic range. There are 194 specimens in the collection. They are mounted in Riker mounts and fill two cases on the second floor.

Although the Provincial Museum is for exhibition of flora and fauna of British Columbia, the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, welcomed this collection when the loan of it was offered, Mr. Kermode explained.

"The collection is well worth seeing and should not be missed by anybody," Mr. Kermode went on.

The museum is open from 9 a.m.

the arts that make perfect entertainment. Under his banner the finest motion pictures, including the famous Paramount pictures, will be shown together with the best music obtainable and entertainment by high-class artists. "Capitol Entertainment is in keeping with the upward trend of the motion picture business," said Mr. Nathanson. I have seen this new form of diversification coming for a long time, but our company was not in a position to present this standardized form of amusement to the public until most of our new theatres were complete. With large houses now in successful operation from coast to coast, it is possible to strike but with what I consider the finest lineup of attractions that has ever been offered to the Canadian public.

"We mean to make Capitol Entertainment a guide post to the best, cleanest and most worthwhile amusement. We have gone to big expense to contract for the greatest photoplays on the market and many in course of production. We are establishing our own studios in Toronto in which we will build our own special entertainment acts and rehearse our artists for prologues to the pictures and for special numbers. These acts will open in Toronto or Montreal and will be sent intact over the circuit. By this arrangement the patrons of our western theatres will see the same big shows as those who attend our houses in the east. Señor Otto Morando, widely known producer and instructor of music and dramatic art; Madame Morando and John Arthur, director of music for all of our theatres, will have charge of the Toronto studios. We already have booked a number of artists of world-wide popularity for appearance over the circuit. Nothing will be omitted from our programme that we think will please our audience, but anything that savors of unfiness will have no place in Capitol Entertainment," concluded Mr. Nathanson.

MR. AND MRS. B. N. SHAW SPEND GOLDEN WEDDING FESTIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Burrill N. Shaw, who have been residents of Victoria the last two years, are to-day quietly celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are especially fortunate as the heads of an unbroken family of eight children, four sons and four daughters, and four grandchildren.

Three of their children are in New Brunswick, one in Pasadena and four in Victoria. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are in very good health and appear quite as young as a couple of middle age.

While on this occasion they are not surrounded by their numerous friends, and are far from their intimates of a lifetime, yet considering themselves privileged to have at least four of their children with them on this occasion, they are quite cheerful and happy.

Mr. Shaw, whose forebears

"trekked" from the State of New York to New Brunswick in 1759 and can claim Canadian citizenship without any likelihood of a dispute. Mrs. Shaw (nee Nevins) is of French Huguenot stock which first settled in the American colonies and came as Loyalists to Canada in 1785.

CANADIAN METHODISM MEMBERSHIP OF 400,000 PERSONS

The statistics for Methodism upon this continent have been completed for presentation to the Ecumenical Conference and they show a fairly satisfactory gain during the decade. These statistics cover both Canada and the United States and they embrace seventeen distinct branches of Methodists. The total number of ministers is 45,405, a decrease of 209. The membership is 3,664,827, an increase of 1,255,031. We have 1,255 churches, an increase since 1911 of 5,812. Sunday-school number 71,025, an increase of 2,477; while Sunday-school officers and teachers number 574,551; an increase of 55,795, and Sunday-school scholars number 7,351,171, an increase of 1,283,025. The peculiar item is the decrease in ministers. With an increase in members of one and a quarter millions it is difficult to see how fewer preachers can do the work. The largest body is, of course, the Methodist Episcopal Church with 4,393,988 members, and the Methodist Episcopal South is next with 2,254,752 members. Two colored churches, the A.M.E. and the A.M.E. Zion come next, while Canadian Methodism comes fifth with 395,653 members. It is worth noting, however, that Canada is third in the Sunday-school list, with 393,043 scholars and 40,596 officers and teachers.—Christian Guardian.

Vancouver Drug Co.

Most great musicians have a religious side to their lives. Look at Haydn: when the idea ceased to flow how fervently he prayed. Red Mozart's letters and observe his devotion to religion. Handel says that when he wrote "he was despatched and rejected" he shed tears, and when he wrote the "Hallelujah Chorus" he thought he saw the heavens open and angels standing around the throne of God. Think of his good that has been done by the Messiah. Mendelssohn's pure soul was also reflected in his oratorios. Think of the great master Beethoven, who, although he had not so often spoken of his religious emotions like Mozart, looked forward to death with content and hope, wishing to "go to meet the Father" on the day of his resurrection. Nothing can be more sublime than to draw nearer God than other men and to diffuse here on earth those god-like rays among mortals, but what is that compared to the grandest of all masters of harmony above?

A great Italian statesman in his advice to young musicians says: "The art you cultivate is holy and you must render your lives holy if you would be its priests. Music is the harmonious voice of creation, an echo of the invisible world, one note of the divine concord which the entire universe is some day to sound. May God speed the day when the nations of the world will speak this universal language, when man shall realize that in the mind of God the various kinds of beauty, intellectual, moral and spiritual, must be inseparable."

J. B. A. A. Holds Last Regatta This Season

Interesting Events At Gorge Yesterday; Club Plans Active Winter Programme of Sport and Entertainment.

The James Bay Athletic Association held its final regatta of the season at the Gorge yesterday afternoon and the various rowing and canoe events proved highly entertaining. The good work done by the J. B. A. A. in the interest of this class of sport in Victoria was amply demonstrated by the contestants in the keen competition for first place in the races yesterday and the association is entitled to great credit for maintaining such an organization and such a high standard of sport.

Following the regatta in the afternoon a flannel dance was held at the Alexandra Club under the patronage of Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia.

Dan O'Sullivan, veteran trainer of the J. B. A. A., felt very proud last night of the results shown by the members in the club-four events. Naturally, the keenest interest was taken in the contest for the Flumerfelt Cup, in which six senior rowers entered.

In the first heat Johnson's crew won easily over MacLachlan, the crews being Johnson (stroke), A. Roberts (two), T. Roberts (three), Watson (bow); and MacLachlan (stroke), Treloar (two), Ryall (three) and Simpson (bow).

In the second heat the crew of Raybone (stroke), Ferris (two), A. Walls (three) and Cummins (bow) defeated by about two lengths the crew of Fraser (stroke), Fraser (two), McKenne (three) and C. W. Pauline (bow).

The third heat was a very keen contest between the following crews: Kennedy (stroke), Temple (two), C. Walls (three) and G. Pauline (bow), and Travis (stroke), Walker (two), Hamilton (three), and Allen (bow). In this event Kennedy won by a very small margin.

Johnson's crew again won easily in the semi-finals against Raybone's crew and also defeated Kennedy's crew in the finals, thus winning the Flumerfelt Cup.

"Jeff" Watson won the Helmecken Cup in the senior single event and S. E. Raybone walked away with the Mallandaine Cup in the junior singles.

The ladies came forward and materially assisted in making the regatta a success by their willingness to enter the various events.

Mrs. R. D. Travis won the single skiff race and Miss Dorothy Pendray was an easy winner in the ladies' single scull event.

W. N. Kennedy won the single tandem race in the preceding events, but failed to make a winning crew, in first R. D. Travis assisting.

The last two events caused considerable excitement, two of the canoes coming together and upsetting in the tandem event.

Regatta Officials. The following were the officials yesterday: Commodore, R. F. Taylor; referee, W. S. Day; judges, B. C. Nicholas, F. W. Thomas, W. T. Andrews; starters, D. O'Sullivan, A. H. Cox; clerk of course, C. French.

Regatta Committee. J. Y. Simpson, R. L. Cox, W. T. Andrews, W. N. Kennedy, J. A. Wickson, F. Fawcett, C. W. Pauline, F. Frost, H. L. Johnson, R. J. Cummins, E. George, G. Watson.

The committee in charge of the regatta were: J. A. Wickson, V. Fawcett, K. Greig, K. McLean, V. Wheatley, V. Fawcett, F. Frost, R. Yates, A. Walls, George Pauline, C. W. Pauline, A. Kent, R. D. Travis, J. A. Wickson, V. McKenna.

Winter Sports. The J.B.A.A. is now about four hundred strong and arrangements are now under way outlining a programme of winter events which will prove of considerable interest to the members and their friends as well.

The next event of interest will be a Halloween dance. Basketball, rugby and, possibly, hockey, will be among the athletic features of the coming winter's programme.

Great Neck, L. I., Sept. 5.—Jim Barnes, Pelham Country Club, American open golf champion, defeated Jack Hutchison, of Chicago, the British open golf champion, 5 up and 4 to play, in their 36-hole match for the world's professional golf championship at the Soundview Golf Club here yesterday.

Barnes outclassed Hutchison in practically every department of the game. Barnes led his opponent 4 up at the end of the first 18 holes.

FINE CATCH.

Afternoon fishing on Sunday proved to be very successful for T. Smith, of 810 Mason Street, who caught a fifty-pound salmon while fishing off the breakwaters. A spoon made by an Indian was the spoon which was used by him. A very hard fight was put up by the fish, and it was only after tiring him out that he was at last landed.

Vancouver Cricketers Take Inter-City Title

Retain Flumerfelt Cup As Result of Victory Over Victoria Team By Eighty-Two Runs.

Vancouver, Sept. 6.—In the deciding inter-city cricket fixture yesterday Vancouver won from Victoria by 82 runs, thus retaining the Flumerfelt Cup, emblematic of the inter-city championship. Honors Split In Fast Inter-City Baseball

Yarrows Win and Lose In Thrillsome Battles With Seattle Royal Arcanums; Nifty Play Grabs Afternoon Victory For Locals.

Morning Game: Victoria, 4; Seattle, 6.
Afternoon Game: Victoria, 2; Seattle, 1.

Those of Victoria's holiday crowd who betook themselves to the Stadium yesterday were treated to two of the neatest exhibitions of ball-tossing seen in amateur circles in this city for a long time. The Yarrows, local champs, mixed things with the Seattle Royal Arcanums, and each team succeeded in taking a game.

The flashy Seattle aggregation grabbed the morning affair by a 6 to 4 score, while the locals played bang-up baseball and won the afternoon tussle by a tight score of 2 to 1. To Yammy McGregor a lot of the credit for the win must go, for Yammy's big round-house "out" curve stood the Yanks on their heads. He retired ten of the visitors via the strike-out route.

Morning Game. The first game was a pretty fair exhibition of ball, but errors by the home team lost the contest.

Eddie Brown hurled nice ball, although he allowed eleven safe singles and issued a few free transportation tickets to first base. The four misuses committed by the Yarrows were responsible for some of the runs, although some good work with the willow by the Seattle boys was used to get the markers.

Baxley, the visiting heaver, had the edge on the twirling honors of the game, and limited the Victoria sluggers to five hits. He was given good support, with the exception of a part of the fourth when, with the bags loaded, a triple steal was attempted—although nothing came of it for the steal did not work and the runners were allowed to regain their bags—no real trouble loomed up for Baxley.

The first two innings were scoreless, but heavy stick work and Brown's wildness coupled with a few boots allowed the visitors three runs.

Fast Fielding. Brown was in several more holes after that, and although three more runs were scored good and fast fielding saved him from having a larger score.

The game ended with the visitors two runs to the good. Box score:

Full of Thrills. The afternoon game was full of excitement and included a fast double play and Deacon McIlvride's sensational punning of the home plate.

Yarrows got off to a good start in their half of the first and succeeded in grabbing two runs. Smiller Pettifore started things going by knocking the ball into the centre fielders' hands. Campbell thought that imitation was the sincerest form of flattery, so he also popped, putting two runs in the cemetery. Johnny Cummings decided that he could do better and proceeded to propel the ball over a burner, and was safe on an infield error.

Davis then proceeded to be generous and handed out two passes which forced one man in. It was while Jim Cummings was at bat that McIlvride started the home run drive, the path like a bullet as Davis was delivering the ball to the batter and caught the Seattle catcher at a disadvantage, beating him to the plate before he had time to retrieve the ball, which happened to be wild, and had gone a little past him. Incidentally it was a triple steal, one of the very few in the history of the game in this city, as the two base-runners advanced as the Deacon stole home.

Jim Cummings fanned, making the third man out.

Pitchers Held 'Em Down. The second and third innings were devoid of anything extra in the way of excitement for both pitchers were going well and their teams were right behind them grabbing anything that even tried to look like a hit.

Hall, first man up in the fourth, kissed the apple on the nose, but it did the aeroplane stunt and, nose down, he sailed into the mitt. Then Johnny Cummings slammed a dazzer down past third base and managed to reach second base before the ball was returned to the infield.

Cookley laid down a neat sacrifice, which advanced Johnny to third. Then Yammy McGregor put a damper on things by placing the ball in the second baseman's hands.

Seattle Looks Dangerous. When the fifth stanza rolled around the Arcanums began to look dangerous. Folk slammed the pill through "Hap" Gandy's legs and John Cummings, who covered him, was too late in his throw to first. Ralston, the next batter, popped one to Jim Cummings, and then Knier, who was a hot roller out to Johnny Cummings, who fumbled it, allowing him to reach the initial sack. The crowd came a great double play. Widditz, the hefty Seattle outfielder, poled a long single out to right field which bounced over the fence. The big fellow tried to stretch it into a double, while Knier tried to follow Folk over the home plate, but Cookley made a quick recovery and pegged the ball to Johnny Cummings, who after a target Widditz pegged home, nabbing Knier at the plate.

Victoria's half of this inning proved uneventful. Pettifore breezed out on three fast ones. Campbell cracked the ball to third and was safe when the Deacon walked and Kellog stole third. Things looked better for the visiting crew, but Davis, their pitching hero, fanned the bats for the third victim.

Gandy came to bat, but did nothing, but hit a long fly to Storlie, who was patrolling the centre garden. He slammed the globule back to the pitcher, who tossed him out at first. Then John Cummings was safe on a fumble by the shortstop, but Cookley ended it all by fouling to the catcher.

Folk, the first visitor to bat in the much-heralded lucky seventh, poled one on a fly, but when the Deacon tried a running catch by Hall in the hot garden, Ralston smacked a left-handed grounder through short field for a single. Knier, who was a hot roller, tried to stretch it into a double, but he was out at second.

For Yarrows, McGregor popped to the third baseman, Pettifore, who was out on a fly to left field. Folk made a neat pick-up of Campbell's drive and ended the inning.

Good Fielding. In the first of the eighth frame Widditz was out when Smiller Pettifore scooped up his grounder and threw him out. After Heinrich had walked Imison took the count on three of Yammy's fool balls. Smiller and another assist to his credit when he grabbed one from off Kellog's bat.

Johnny Cummings was the first batter for the Yarrows in the eighth and he could do was knock one out to Widditz. Then the Deacon hit and broke one of Mr. Davis's slants and broke his own club, but the apple refused to do more than go back to the hurler, who threw him out at first. "Hap" Gandy tried his luck but all he could do was to put the ball into the short-stop's hands.

The final session began with Allie McGregor announcing that Baxley would pitch for Storlie, who might just as well have tried his own luck, because the pinch hitter poked a soft roller to Pettifore, and the Smiller easily threw him out at first.

Wade the Pitcher! Then the youth who occupied the exalted position on the hillcock marched up swinging a dangerous-looking shishlah. Yammy dished up a grounder and the Smiller banged out a dazzling double. The crowd was agast. In the future, when a pitcher is going to make a hit he should groove the ball.

The Seattle hopes rose but Yammy served six assorted slants which put the succeeding two batters in the graveyard in the game.

Deacon McIlvride played a great game behind the bat and coached Yammy in great style. He poled out a two-bagger and stole home—a very creditable performance.

LOCAL GIRLS WIN CHAMPIONSHIPS

Kathleen Wellburn and Audrey Griffin Take Canadian Swimming Titles

With a record time of 78 1-5 seconds Kathleen Wellburn, the fourteen-year-old sprinter of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, shut out Hazel Kessler, of the Victoria Ladies' Swimming Club, of Winnipeg, in the 100 yards dash for the Dominion championship at the big gala which was held at the Gorge on Saturday under the auspices of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. All three championships went to Victoria swimmers, Audrey Griffin securing the 400 yards' championship, Kathleen Wellburn the 100 yards and the B. C. water polo championship went to the team representing the Y. M. C. A.

A Popular Victory.

Kathleen Wellburn's victory in securing the Dominion title proved to be very popular. There were many admirers hoping that she would come in first but were very much surprised when she did. But on looking back one need not be surprised at her success as a steady advancement has been made by this young lady since the time she almost won the B. C. fifty-yard championship. That she deserves to have the honor of titleholder is shown by the way in which she has been training for this event. Miss Kessler, of Winnipeg, all but secured the title. If her course had been a straight there would have been some doubt as to who would have been first.

The 400 yards' contest was Audrey Griffin's race. She covered the course in seven minutes flat, with Grace Wellburn second. From the start Miss Griffin took the lead and easily increased it, while Miss Wellburn fought it out with Rachel Grimshaw for second place and secured that position by putting on a sprint and taking the lead of ten feet.

The Y. M. C. A. secured an easy victory over the Vancouver team in a score of seven to nothing in the water polo match, while a two-to-one score went in the match between the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club and the Y. M. C. A. The fifty yards' handicap followed by the life-saving contest came next in importance and number of entries. Considerable interest was aroused in these events.

Detailed results in the championships follow:

Ladies' 100 yards championship of Canada—1, Kathleen Wellburn (Victoria Amateur Swimming Club); 2, Hazel Kessler (Victoria Ladies' Swimming Club of Winnipeg); 3, Audrey Griffin (Victoria and Island Athletic Association). Time 78 1-5 seconds.

Ladies' 400 yards, championship of Canada—1, Audrey Griffin (Y.V.A.); 2, Grace Wellburn (Victoria Amateur Swimming Club); 3, Rachel Grimshaw (Winnipeg Amateur Swimming Club). Time 22 1-2.

B. C. Water Polo Championship. Victoria Y. M. C. A., 2; Victoria A. S. C., 1.

Vancouver A. S. C., 3; V. I. A. A. and Elks, 2.

Final—Y. M. C. A., 7; Vancouver A. S. C., 9.

Third heat: 1, Grace Wellburn (V.A.S.C.); 2, G. E. Wellburn (V.A.S.C.). Fourth heat: 1, T. Wellburn (V.A.S.C.); 2, C. L. L. (V.A.S.C.). First semi-final: 1, J. Larsen; 2, G. Silburn. GOOD RANGE SCORES IN SPITE OF WIND

The usual weekly Fifth Regiment shoot on Saturday was fired in rather dull weather. The wind, too, was rather variable, but some good scores were made.

Fifth Regiment Shot DUCCA CELEBRATES LABOR DAY ROYALLY Takes Honors at Heals

Fine Sports Programme Occupies Cowichan Competitors

The amalgamated rifle shoot which was held at Heals Rifle Range yesterday produced one of the finest shooting meets this city has seen for a long time, and although the light and wind were tricky to the contestants, some very fine shots were made.

J. Caven might well be marked down as being the most consistent shot, making 48 points out of a possible 50 at the 300 yards range. He also secured the grand aggregate silver medal, which was donated by Major Bray and presented to J. Caven as the most successful contestant for the day.

In the aggregate results J. Caven showed up on top, with Sergt. L. Burton one point behind. Burton secured a score of 174, while J. Caven registered 180. Capt. Tapley took the bronze medal with a score of 177, while Capt. A. E. Ashe just missed it with the same score of 177. In the case of a tie of this kind the highest score at the 600-yard range took the count. Sergt. H. Burton is also the holder of a silver medal for being second in this contest.

Scots Win
Team shooting put the 16th Scottish in the limelight when they took the event with an excellent lead of 34 points, the team scoring a total number of 1063 points. The Garrison took up second position with 775 points. The Fifth Regiment went into cellar place with 331 points to its credit. The match was shot off at three ranges—the 200, 500 and 600 yards. It was at the 500 and 600 yards that the light and wind proved to be the trickiest, and they gave those shooting some to think over before they commenced firing. Prize prizes were distributed at the range before the close of the day, but mercantile prizes and medals will be presented at the Drill Hall tonight.

The results of the shooting meet were as follows:

and blue with festoons of flags everywhere.

The supper which was provided by ladies of the auxiliary to the G. W. V. A. with Mesdames Tisdall, Dunkley, Hopkins and Jackson as committee, was most delicious. The tables were decorated with flowers in red and white and blue and the walls with greenery and flags and flowers. Flags were kindly loaned for the hall and supper room decorations by the Cowichan Bay Yacht Club, Lt.-Col. Mathews, D. S. O., and C. W. Lonsdale, of Shawnigan.

There was a splendid attendance at the ball which is really the first large social event of the season. If one may judge by this event the coming Fall and Winter promises to be a very jolly season.

GREAT CONFERENCE TO OPEN TO-DAY

World-wide Methodism Will Be Represented in London

The great conference of world-wide Methodism, known as the Ecumenical Methodist Conference, will convene in Central Hall, Westminster, London, to-day, and will continue its sessions until September 15. Rev. Dr. Sippell will attend from this city on behalf of British Columbia Methodism. Delegates will be present from every branch of Methodism the world over and already numbers have left their homes to journey to the place of meeting.

The opening session of the conference will be held in the "Great Hall" of Central Hall, Westminster, London. Rev. S. P. Rose, D.D., of Montreal, will preach the sermon that will mark the opening of the conference and Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore of Toronto, is a member of the business committee of the conference. Other Canadians will take part in the sessions, but the full programme has not yet been published. The Methodists of England are planning to entertain the visitors in private homes, giving lodging, breakfast and dinner, while the luncheon will be provided in the Central Hall. Bishop Lee of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States, is to review the work of the church in its western section during the past ten years, while Rev. P. L. Wiseman of London renders a similar service for the eastern section of the church. The Methodist church of Japan is included in the western section and Bishop Roger Usaki will attend the conference as a delegate from the Japanese church. Bishop Usaki has seen over twenty-five years' service as pastor, preacher, editor, missionary, secretary and college president and is reputed to be a very efficient administrator and eloquent speaker.

Other delegates who have taken a prominent part in the work of the church in various parts of the world will take part in the programme. The last Ecumenical council was held in Metropolitan Church, Toronto, in 1911.

A. and N. V.—The Army and Navy Veterans' Association, Victoria Unit, will hold their general monthly meeting on Thursday evening next at 8.15. The members are specially requested to attend, as there are several matters of importance for discussion. An executive council meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on the same day.

MAYOR, DISGUSTED, TO PUT McDIARMID ISSUE TO COUNCIL

Says Union Had Sudden "Change of Heart" Over Agent's Functions

Disgusted with the decision of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to allow its Parliamentary Agent, F. A. McDiarmid, to conduct legal cases against the cities of the Union, Mayor Porter will take the matter up with the City Council at its next meeting, he announced to-day.

"I was not at all satisfied with the decision of the Union to allow Mr. McDiarmid to continue to take cases against cities which are members of the Union," the Mayor said. "When the matter came before the resolution committee, of which I was a member, the committee decided by a big majority to urge that Mr. McDiarmid's salary as parliamentary agent should be raised and that he be not allowed to take cases against the city again."

"When the question came before the convention, however, and Mr. McDiarmid threatened to resign unless he were paid $5,000 a year or unless he was allowed to continue to take cases against the city, then the members of the resolutions committee had a sudden change of heart. They turned right around and voted to allow Mr. McDiarmid to continue to take cases against us. When the question came to vote, in fact, only the Victoria delegates, supported by one other delegate, Mayor Johnston, of New Westminster, voted to prevent him from taking cases against us."

Plain Facts. "These are the facts and I intend to put them before the council and let it decide what it wants to do about them. I am in favor of the city being a member of the Union, but I certainly consider Mr. McDiarmid's position an impossible one. He has the confidence of the Union as an excellent parliamentary agent, but we can't agree to his taking cases against us."

"I was satisfied with the convention as a whole, and, however, the Mayor said, 'It was valuable from an educational standpoint and accomplished a great deal of good, I think. We did not get far on the financial question in one sense, but the fact that Premier Oliver agreed to meet us again on the question before the Fall session of the Legislature is a very satisfactory development. We are agreed that we will stand by our previous financial demands until they are definitely rejected, when we shall be in a position to make new taxation proposals. Is Satisfied."

"I was very well satisfied with the convention," said Alderman W. F. Fullerton, the city's other council delegate to the Union convention. "We did our best to stop Mr. McDiarmid taking cases against the city, but the Union was against us. I don't see that we can do anything more."

Mr. McDiarmid's overwhelming victory in the face of the Victoria delegation was one of the most significant events of the whole Union convention. The delegates at first were perfectly willing to the proposal that he should refrain from conducting cases against cities of the Union in future. But when, in a vigorous speech, Mr. McDiarmid threatened to resign if his private law practice were taken from him and his salary not raised from $500 to $5,000 a year, the attitude of the convention changed completely.

There were a few tense moments while the delegates wondered what they ought to do. Then Mayor Gale, of Vancouver, sprang up and, in one of his typically eloquent speeches, swung the whole convention around to Mr. McDiarmid's side. Amid thundering applause he moved that Mr. McDiarmid's demands should be granted and proceeded to pay the highest possible tribute to the ability of the Union's parliamentary agent. It was a complete victory for Mr. McDiarmid, and when the vote was taken only four Victoria delegates and Mayor Johnston voted against him. It was not only a vote on his functions as parliamentary agent. It was an overwhelming vote of confidence in his work.

MARRIED IN VANCOUVER.

Vancouver, Sept. 5.—St. John's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a pretty and interesting wedding Saturday, when Miss Mildred Bruce MacEachern and Mr. Edward William Hodder were united in marriage. Miss MacEachern is the third daughter of the late Mr. J. Hugh MacEachern and Mrs. MacEachern, of this city, while the groom is the only son of the late Mr. Edward Francis Hodder and Mrs. Hodder, of "Lissadell," Yale Street, Oak Bay, Victoria.

Rev. A. D. Mackenzie performed the ceremony, which was a quiet one, attended only by relatives and intimate friends of the two families. Mr. Gordon MacEachern gave his sister away, and the bridesmaid was Miss Lorna MacEachern, a sister. The bride looked charming and graceful in a traveling suit of midnight blue velvet, heavily embroidered, with seal collar and cuffs, which opened on a georgette blouse, trimmed with fillet lace.

Her hat was attractive and becoming, being tailored of black satin, the brim softened with lace. The bridesmaid wore a becoming brown velvet suit, with sable trimmings, and a smart hat of brown velvet and taffeta.

Mr. Jock Watson, of Oak Bay, Victoria, was best man. The bridegroom served with distinction overseas, and was attached to the 50th Gordon Highlanders.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held in the Elcho Apartments, following which the bride and groom departed for Victoria.

They will spend their honeymoon motoring on the island and later take up their residence with Mrs. Hodder, senior, at her charming home in Oak Bay.

TWICE HELD UP IN SZECHUAN TOUR

Dr. Stephenson Here After Adventures Inspecting Chinese Mission

Representatives of both the two great Christian denominations who are working in Szechuan, the far western province of China, arrived on the Empress of Russia yesterday.

A notable visitor was Dr. F. C. Stephenson, who is one of the secretaries of the mission board of the Canadian Methodist Church. Dr. Stephenson, whose home is in Toronto, and who is accompanied by Mrs. Stephenson, was making his first visit to western China, and has good cause to remember it, according to the story he told The Times yesterday.

First as the vessel in which he was proceeding up stream was in the vicinity of Ichang, the Yunnanese, who had been discomfited in an engagement with the Szechuanese, fired on the vessel in the hope of capturing it, and using it as a transport. The crew, however, managed to evade the terrified insurgents, and the remainder of the journey to the missions was made without incident. He on the return, at a place near Chung-ku, bandits attacked the small sampan in which Dr. Stephenson was travelling, and it was not until the robbers were satisfied they were dealing with foreigners, and therefore likely to get into serious trouble that they desisted.

Dr. Stephenson, who was met here by Dr. J. W. Saunby, formerly a missionary in Japan, and now a Victoria resident, finds the four phases of the Canadian Methodist Church work in Szechuan, making substantial progress. Medical, evangelical, educational and industrial arts engage the attention of the missionaries, of whom there are about 200, with approximately 100 children. He mentioned that jointly with two British and two American colleges, the Canadian Methodist Church has a university established at the capital Cheng-tu, which is doing very valuable work.

Much Brigandage. The Chinese Inland Mission in Szechuan was represented by Rev. G. T. Denham, of Liang-Shan, in Szechuan province, who is on his way to the Old Country on Furlough. Mr. Denham told The Times that owing to the distance from Peking and Canton, the conflicts of the Northern and Southern Governments do not trouble the western state much, but brigandage is rampant among the natives.

After twelve years' experience in the country Mr. Denham holds that Christian Missions are making real progress, and that the natives recipi-

PRaises WORK OF AGENT-GENERAL

John MacCormac Speaks on Immigration Conditions

British Columbia's Agent General is securing more publicity than the High Commissioner and other Agents General combined for this province, and is attaining concrete results, according to John MacCormac, special representative of the Vancouver Province in London, England, who spent the week and in Victoria, on his first visit to this city.

Mr. MacCormac is brought closely in touch with the work of F. C. Wade, K. C., the Agent-General, and says that Mr. Wade never ceases to speak out strongly, and writes vigorously when he can get results for the province which he represents. The conditions at British Columbia House have greatly improved, in his opinion, and with changes in tenancy the building is now paying its way, he states.

Mr. MacCormac says one of the reasons of Mr. Wade's success with the London public is that he has not lost touch with British Columbia events, and brings still the Western vigor to his work. He finds that many of the leading Canadians in London have assimilated themselves very largely to the English outlook, and are losing identity in the mass, whereas Mr. Wade has hitherto escaped that condition.

European Immigration. Mr. MacCormac came out to the province at this time, he told The Times, not only for a holiday, but to study immigration questions, both those of the emigration of British, and the Oriental outlook in British Columbia. He says there exists a sentiment of regret at the Canadian policy, which in its result, though not apparent in its intent is discouraging British labor on the land, while the flow from the South continues into Canada. There are he says, many Polish immigrants coming in to rough labor, and the proportions of British stock entering are not sustaining the normal balance.

Tender Gums—A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

taining the normal balance.

On the Oriental question there is a good deal of sympathy with the antagonism to their ownership of land in London political circles, and one question, which he believes could be settled in the case of China, but not so easily in the case of Japan, is restriction of immigration to certain vocations. His inquiries in this province have convinced him that there is considerable opposition in certain quarters to prohibition of Oriental immigration and he believes that the solution might be found in some form of scheduled occupations, which would continue to be open to the Oriental immigrant. The difficulty in this respect would be with Japan, whose representatives at various conferences continue to take a strong line, demanding recognition on an equality with Euro-
